RIOTING IN ERIN ENDS AS CLOCK TURNS TO NOONDAY

DeValera and Aides to Leave For London Tomorrow For Peace Parley

LONDON, July 11.—All fighting ceased in Belfast as clocks stroked the hour of noon, according to a dispatch to the Herald today. A sudden silence followed the noon hour and then the combatants put aside their weapons, in accord with terms of the truce.

Shortly after noon several buildings fired during the morning, were still burning, it was said.

THROGS SWARM STREETS AS TRUCE EFFECTIVE.

DUBLIN, July 11.—As the clocks of Dublin struck the hour of noon today, the sound of their bells was drowned in the roar of ship sirens that welcomed the truce between the British forces and the Sinn Feiners.

Citizens gathered excitedly on the corners. Shortly after 12 o'clock, when the armistice became effective, a group of unarmed Black and Tans strolled from the barracks and in a few moments they were fraternizing with the people, talking eagerly about the prospects of permanent peace.

The soldiers, long conspicuous figures in the streets, disappeared today and in place of the sentries with fixed bayonets, peaceful looking policemen paced their beats.

SNIPERS CONTINUE FIRING UNTIL NOON HOUR.

BELFAST, July 11.—Sniping was in progress here at noon today, the hour when the Irish truce became effective.

The scattered fighting was the aftermath of two days' rioting which resulted in heavy casualties.

The morning mail train en route from Belfast to Londonderry was derailed near Carrickmore, in Tyrone. The crew was held up and six cars burned.

The rioting in Belfast, which broke out Saturday night and continued until suppressed by the military last night, was renewed this morning.

There were sporadic outbursts in various parts of the city which continued until nearly noon. In one melee a bread wagon was burned and its driver beaten.

In addition to the fourteen persons killed and 105 injured, it was stated that 200 were rendered homeless by fires.

The week-end death toll was 24, including a major, it was officially announced.

Four soldiers were kidnapped in Cork last night and a constable was taken prisoner in Skibereen this morning.

IRISH PEACE PARLEY TO OPEN THURSDAY, WORK.

LONDON, July 11.—Irish peace negotiations will open Thursday.

Eamonn De Valera, president of the "Irish Republic," today notified Premier Lloyd George that he would come to London on that date to begin the important conference.

De Valera's telegraphed reply was received shortly before noon.

DE VALERA TO LEAVE FOR LONDON TOMORROW.

DUBLIN, July 11.—The Sinn Fein peace delegation, headed by Eamonn De Valera, will leave for London tomorrow, it was officially announced here today.

In addition to De Valera, the delegation will consist of Arthur Griffith and Messrs. Stack and Barton. The latter two are members of the Dail Eireann.

MEXICAN OFFICIAL DIES UNDER TAXICAB

CALEXICO, Cal., July 11.—Francisco Terrazas, secretary of state of Lower California, was killed here yesterday by a taxicab driven by Clyde Underwood, age 20.

Underwood is in jail at El Centro, charged with manslaughter.

Brewster Takes Back Seat As She Spends Millions Recklessly

Mrs. Smith-Wilkinson, who is creating a furore in Europe by her lavish spending, is coming to America. European reports say she has an annual income of $80,000,000. She is shown here in the dress in which she attended the Auteuil races. It is decorated with many diamonds. Paris papers say she spent $5,000,000 in three weeks.

PRESIDENT WILL READ MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Harding hopes to address the senate next Thursday, urging postponement of the soldier bonus bill, he told Senators Curtis and Lodge at the White House late today.

Harding's message will be delivered to the senate alone and will be confined to deferring action on the bonus, it was stated.

The message is expected to call for laying aside the soldier bonus and the hastening of taxation and tariff legislation for which the present special session was called.

Harding, senators expect, will ask co-operation for the national good and urge that personal legislation be subordinated.

Senator Pat Harrison, Mississippi, Democrat, today harranged the senate at length on Harding's "executive interference in the work of the legislative body."

Harrison said that Harding, after promising not to meddle, had "forgotten his promise and come to the aid of his party in congress, because it couldn't get anywhere unless he did."

"Harding began meddling," Harrison said, on the peace resolution, continued it on the Borah disarmament proposal and the packer bill, and climaxed it with his visit to the capitol last week to block the bonus bill.

LONG BEACH FIREMAN IS ACCUSED BY GIRL

LONG BEACH, July 11.—Horace Box, Long Beach fireman, was this morning placed under arrest by Long Beach police, charged with connection with the kidnapping and attack on Lucile Umphries on Signal Hill here on the evening of July 2. Miss Umphries confronted the fireman at the police station and positively identified him as the man who held up her and her escort on Signal Hill and then forced her into his car and drove away. Box has been in the service since June 1 and denies any knowledge of the affair.

GROVE HOME MARKED BY TRAGEDY

Child To Whom Tiny Brother Was Born Friday Loses Life Next Day

Her little body a mass of scalded flesh, little Katherine Page, 2 years old, is dead.

And in the heart of her father, Steve Page, of Garden Grove, there is alternate joy and sorrow.

For last Friday there was born to little Katherine a baby brother, and the arrival of the tiny stranger brought the bluebird of happiness into the Page home.

But last Saturday little Katherine overturned upon herself a pall of boiling hot water.

Father's Heart Heavy

That is why the heart of the father is heavy.

And yet when he looks upon the little boy who came into his home last Friday, at times a tear of happiness, in spite of all, steals down his cheek along with the tears that have their source in Saturday's tragedy.

The father came to Santa Ana today and went to the undertaking establishment of Smith and Tuthill.

There, his voice shaking, he told the story of how the life of his little Katherine had been snuffed out by the grim hand of fate.

And there he made arrangements for the burial of the little girl.

Little Katherine had been at play just a moment before the hand of death reached out and snatched away its prey.

Washing Milk Bottles

The little girl's older brothers and sisters were washing milk bottles by pouring hot water into them. Buckets filled with the boiling liquid stood about.

Pausing for a moment in her play, little Katherine stood beside one of the buckets.

Suddenly, for some cause not yet ascertained, the bucket overturned and the vessel's scalding contents were overturned upon the little body.

Practically, the children called to their father, who at once summoned a physician from Santa Ana.

Despite all the physician could do, the child died yesterday.

It is understood that the little girl will be buried in Los Angeles.

Taft's Life Ambition Realized as He Becomes Chief Justice

WASHINGTON, July 11.—William Howard Taft today took the oath of chief justice of the United States supreme court, achieving, he said, the ambition of his life.

Members of Taft's family, relatives and nearly 200 friends crowded into the office of Attorney General Daugherty to witness the ceremony.

Taft, with his right hand raised and his left hand placed upon an open bible, repeated phrase by phrase the oath of office of nearly 200 words.

Daugherty, who was the first to congratulate the new chief justice, proffered as a souvenir the pen with which Taft subscribed to the oath. When Daugherty handed Taft his commission, the new justice remarked:

"I have no reason to doubt the authenticity of this."

Justice Taft called on President Harding at the White House shortly after taking the oath of office.

WOMAN HURLS SELF TO DEATH FROM TOP OF L. A. BUILDING

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Hurting herself from the thirteenth floor of the Brack Shops building, a woman believed to be Mrs. R. C. Wilson of El Paso, Tex., committed suicide shortly before noon today before the eyes of scores of horrified passersby. Police could establish no motive for the tragedy.

CRIPPLED SHIP IN PORT AFTER CRASH WITH MYSTERY BOAT

NEW YORK, July 11.—Another sea mystery story was told here today when the steamer Port Morgan, a small ship in the banana trade between Jamaica and New York limped into port minus funnel, charthouse and part of the bridge.

Captain Eerling Hervig said that last Saturday night sixty miles off Cape Hatteras his vessel crashed into another ship, which showing no light lay directly in his path.

The funnel, charthouse and part of the bridge were carried away by the force of the collision but no vital damage was done.

Hervig yelled at the stranger through a megaphone but it pulled away without answering. He described it as a four or five masted schooner.

BRITISH PREMIER IN SPEECH BACKS MOVE TO DISARM

(United Press Leased Wire)

LONDON, July 11.—World peace depends more upon friendly co-operation between the United States and Great Britain than any other single factor, Premier Lloyd George declared in addressing the house of commons this afternoon.

"No effort will be lacking on the part of the British Empire, to make the proposed conference a success," Lloyd George said.

The premier made this assertion during a speech in which he virtually accepted for Great Britain the invitation of President Harding to participate in a disarmament conference.

Friendly Co-operation

"The first principle of our policy is friendly co-operation with the United States," he said. "I am convinced that upon that more than any other single factor depends the peace of the world."

The premier also said that "we also desire to maintain our friendship with Japan."

"The Anglo-Japanese alliance not only is of great benefit to ourselves, but to the peace of the Far East," he said. "The alliance remains in force and will lapse only twelve months after it is denounced."

"It is the desire of the British empire and Japan that the agreement shall be brought into complete accord with the league of nations covenant which prevails wherever inconsistencies occur."

Press Criticism

The Harding proposal has inspired tremendous enthusiasm throughout the country which is reflected in the press.

King George and Ambassador Harvey were understood to have discussed the disarmament situation at a state dinner Thursday.

In Dominion circles it was frankly admitted that Premier Meighen of Canada had definitely upset any plans the government might have had for even conditional renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The Weekly Nation issued the following warning:

"Canada will soon have her own ambassador to Washington and her own representative in Geneva. She is unwilling to imperil American friendship by following a Japanese policy which the United States would resent. We believe American friendship to be worth many times more than the very doubtful Japanese affections. The risk of driving Canada to assert her independence would prevent renewal of the alliance."

FRENCH ASK FOR TIME TO REPLY TO INVITATION

PARIS, July 11.—The French government has taken under advisement President Harding's proposal for a disarmament conference, it was learned here this afternoon.

Seldena Whitehouse, American charge d'affaires called to ascertain the French attitude.

Foreign office officials advised Whitehouse that a reply would be made later. Indications are that France will make reservations.

Inclusion of France and Italy in the conference, in addition to the original proposed conferees—the United States, Great Britain and Japan—has created an extremely favorable impression throughout government circles.

JORDAN HAS GREAT HOPE FOR SUCCESS OF PARLEY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., July 11.—President Harding's call for a disarmament conference is the greatest move for world peace since the destruction of German militarism.

This is the opinion of David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford university and noted world peace advocate, expressed today in an interview with the United Press.

"It should be quite easy for the United States, Great Britain and Japan to reach an agreement on limiting armaments in the Pacific because there are no real grievances to be settled," Dr. Jordan said.

"Most of the trouble and suspicion in the Pacific has been stirred up by the irresponsible talk of those in all three nations who want larger armaments."

Favor Great Lakes Plan

"I am in favor of making the Pacific a great lakes," Dr. Jordan said.

WORLD POWERS HAVE SET ASIDE BILLION AND HALF FOR SHIPS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Approximately $1,500,000,000 has been appropriated for extension of the naval program by the five countries which are expected to discuss disarmament, figures today disclosed.

The United States leads with $500,000,000.

Great Britain is second with $422,000,000.

Japan is third with $250,000,000.

France is fourth with $175,000,000.

Italy is fifth with $73,000,000.

Completion of the present building programs will show the five countries armed on the ocean as follows:

Great Britain, 955 ships; United States, 606 ships; Japan, 221; France, 253; Italy, 245.

WOMAN GETS JOB AS REGISTRAR OF LANDS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Harding sent to the senate the following nominations today:

To be collector of customs—Chas. Fowler of Nogales, Ariz., for district No. 26.

To be registrar of land office—Miss Nemeira Ascarate of Las Cruces, N. M.

2000 JAPANESE SMUGGLED INTO U. S. CHARGE

United Press Leased Wire

TOKIO, July 11.—That over two thousand Japanese have been smuggled from Lower California into the United States by pulling the wool over the eyes of the Japanese foreign office, is one of the sensational charges made in a suit brought in the Tokyo courts by a Japanese named Harada against the so-called Japan-Mexico Industrial Development company.

Harada also charged that Japanese Consul Oyama of Los Angeles issued fraudulent certificates in connection with the activities of the corporation.

$800 Per Head

Harada charged that the corporation entered the smuggling business as a sideline, charging from $500 to $800 per head to bring each Japanese across the line. The foreign office issued a statement, however, stating that it believed the number of smuggled Japanese to be highly

The Press and the People

Their Mutual Relations and Obligations

Under this heading the Register intends to have some heart-to-heart talks with its readers, in an endeavor to bring about a better understanding of each other's point of view.

The Register has received several communications on the subject of giving prominent and detailed publicity to the Dempsey-Carpenter fight—too many for publication; but two of them fairly typical, one condemnatory and one commendatory, are published in the "People's Forum" on the editorial page of this paper.

The author of the condemnatory communication, Miss Charlotte E. Dresser, while unquestionably sincere and fair-minded, evinces a positive genius for putting The Register in the wrong.

Without actually saying so, Miss Dresser makes it appear that The Register holds prize fighting in higher esteem than it does religious activities. But she would search the files of The Register in vain for a line or word of editorial approval or even sanction of prize fighting.

On the other hand she would find frequent condemnation of the brutal "sport," and she would find column after column, week in and week out of editorial approval and support religious activities.

Miss Dresser naively asks: "Has not The Register lost something of its sense of values when it declares the interest shown for a prize fight to be far greater than the interest in church or religious intelligence?" But The Register did not "declare" or even intimate anything of the kind to the effect of Miss Dresser's implication. In derogation of prize fighting and the element of human nature to which must be attributed the almost universal interest in it—and the intensity of that interest on the part of large numbers—The Register said:

"It is certainly a sad commentary on what we call civilization that no church event of which we ever heard would bring 1500 people to The Register of fice to get the news of it 'hot from the wire,' or enable The Register to sell 2200 copies of an extra edition containing a full account of it."

In general, however, the article under this heading, in The Register of July 6, was not a discussion of the ethics of prize fighting. And certainly this paper would not insult the Church—which it recognizes as the greatest influence for good, both moral and material, in the world, by making anything like a comparison of either moral or material values as between prize fighting and religion. The Register was discussing human nature and news values in their commercial aspect; and commercial news values consist largely in their dramatic and sensational element and their qualities of immediacy and intensity—elements and qualities which do not characterize in any large measure the affairs of the Church.

The Register, in common with most newspapers, recognizes the permanent and constructive news value of church and religious activities, and prints a hundred columns of such news to every one column of prize fight news.

ASSESSMENT BY HUNT. CENTRAL ANNOUNCED

At a meeting Saturday, directors of the Huntington Central Oil company ordered an assessment of 1 cent a share placed upon the stock of the company.

By the assessment it is expected to raise $35,000 to be used, according to plans outlined at the meeting, for the erection of a new derrick for well No. 1 on the Gothard lease, for cleaning out No. 1, and for the completion of No. 2, on the east edge of the field.

The announcement of the assessment created wide discussion among stock companies operating at Huntington Beach, as well as among the stockholders of the Huntington Central. The Huntington Central has 3,500,000 shares issued to between 9,000 and 10,000 stockholders in amounts ranging from $10 up.

Row Reported

It was reported that there has been some dissension among the managers of the company.

The fluctuations in Huntington Central have been remarkable. Most of the stock was originally sold at 10 cents a share.

The company's drilled a well on what is known as the Gothard lease, comprising five lots, and brought in a well that flowed for fourteen days, during which time it is reported that it produced $13,000 in oil. The well sanded up, and the company was up against the necessity of cleaning it out.

A week ago last Saturday night, the derrick of the company over this well was burned down. Suspicions of foul play were freely expressed.

Levy Held Necessary

The rebuilding of the derrick in order to get the well back on production became a necessity. It was stated that there was no more money in the treasury to complete the derrick. The assessment evidently was the only alternative in order to raise the money to go on with the company's operations.

Directly after the Huntington Central struck oil, the stock in the company took a jump. It was quoted on the market as high as 25 cents, and it is reported that a number of sales of stock were made at 30, 40 and 50 cents. On the Huntington Beach boards today, Huntington Central was offered at 4 cents, and 2 1/2 was offered.

Suggestions Given Those Interested In Brides And Trousseaus

With ornaments, ribbons, flowers, jewels, etc., the interest in bride lace goes merrily on.

Here are some more "facts" all brides, and those who know brides, will want to know:

If the first flower a bride sees on her wedding morn is white, she will lead a happy life, but if red she will know both sorrow and care.

If a bride has a bunch of pink roses given her, it is lucky.

For any one else but the bride herself to pluck the flowers worn at her wedding was considered in Greece an ill omen.

A bride will not be happy if a thorn in her bouquet scratches her hand.

The usher or best man who gets the groom's boutonniere will marry next.

The girl who finds a flower dropped from the bride's bouquet will soon be married.

If the bridesmaids go into a dark room and toss up the bride's bouquet the first to pick it up will be the first to marry.

A rose from the bridal wreath of one you love betokens happiness.

In Scotland a thistle sprig or an ornament in the way of a thistle is considered lucky to include in the wedding outfit.

If a girl wears a gown with rosebuds on it, she will not be a bride until it is worn out.

If the bride separates the flowers in her bouquet and throws them, the one who catches the largest number will be married first.

If, at your wedding, red roses are given you by your father, it will bring good luck.

It is considered lucky to take a flower away from the church after the wedding.

If a bride leaves her bouquet in church and turns back to get it, she will have an unfortunate wedded life.

If the bride loses a flower from her bouquet before the wedding, she will have many little troubles in her married life.

In France, it is said no wedding decoration is complete without the magnonette—which will keep the bride first in her husband's thoughts.

The bride who wears jasmine is rich enough to make the fortune of a poor husband.

Only a bride should wear orange blossoms.

It is considered bad luck to use red roses at a bridal, because on the rejection of Eve from Paradise, all the roses which were white blushed red at our great mother's fall. It is also said that red roses worn by a bride will cause her to blush in after years when her wedding is mentioned.

It is not considered lucky to wear only flowers in the hair:

If the bonny bride do wear Naught but flowers on her hair, The day will quickly dawn When she regrets her wedding morn.

Lose jewelry at a wedding and you lose a friend.

Pearls and opals are not lucky stones for a bride to wear.

It is good luck for a bride to wear a bracelet.

Whoever puts a bridal wreath or veil on for play will never marry.

The orange blossom wreath for the bride comes from an old practice of the Saracens, by whom the orange blossom was regarded as a symbol of prosperous marriage.

It is good luck for the bride to wear at the altar some love gift given by the groom before they were engaged to be married.

It will bring good luck to the bride to have some one secrete some heirloom of her family in the trunk she takes away with her.

STRIKING FRUIT PACKERS FORM LOCAL UNION

Fruit packers at Orange who went on strike last week because the scale for packing oranges was reduced from 6 to 5 1/2 cents a box, are standing firm and have voted not to go back to work unless 6 cents is paid.

One hundred and eleven men and women engaged in packing-house work today were members of a local union of the International Union of Fruit and Vegetable workers, following organization of the local Saturday night at a meeting held at Barger's hall, Orange.

At a meeting today a committee was named to notify the associations of the action of the union in declaring that members would not work for less than 6 cents a box. The committee will negotiate with the managers of the packing houses, for recognition of the union, it is said.

Officers for the local have been elected as follows:

William Ferguson, president; Ed Malley, vice president; Lila King, recording secretary; M. S. Orvel, Knight, financial secretary; Orvel Knight, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Mae Coltrane, conductor.

Charles Perry Taylor, representative of the International union, was present from Fresno Saturday and talked to the workers on the advantages of organization. It is said that he spoke of the benefit of being identified with a union, but did not discuss the local situation to any extent.

A charter was telegraphed for, the order being sent to Fresno, and it is expected to arrive within the next two or three days, when the union will have official existence.

It was said today that the packing-house managers intend to stick to the new packing scale and that all packing houses have sufficient forces to carry on their operations.

CHARGES DYE MEN IN $100,000 LOBBY PLOT

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The dye industry is maintaining a $100,000 lobby in Washington during consideration of the tariff, Representative Frear, Wisconsin, Republican, charged in the house today. He also asserted that Francis P. Garvin, former alien property custodian, and his associates, bought for a son, German dye patents. "Garvin and his friends paid 2 per cent of the value of the patents," Frear said. "The patent to salvarsan is said to be worth $5,000,000, yet the price for all the chemical secrets was about $250,000."

JAPANESE FLOCKING TO LOWER CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Japanese are pouring into Lower California at an alarming rate from all West coast ports of Central America and direct from Japan as well. This is according to officers on the steamer Centralia, which has just arrived in this harbor from southern ports.

At Ensenada, Lower California, according to Capt. E. P. Dettler, skipper of the Centralia, the Japanese are taking up land holdings under the old Mexican law of colonization and are cultivating the soil and engaging in fishing, much to the dislike of the Mexican population.

City and County

The Rev. J. C. Nava, in charge of the Mexican mission of the First Methodist church, is expected to return to Santa Ana late this evening from Mexico, where he has been for two weeks. The Rev. Mr. Nava went to Mexico to attend a national Sunday school and young people's convention at Chihuahua.

A pane of glass in the front door of The Register building was shattered last Friday night when an automobile driven by Frank Bemus climbed the sidewalk and smashed into the door. Bemus said that he lost control of the machine. Police Officer Sid Smithwick and City Marshal Sam Jernigan investigated. The break was repaired Saturday.

A motoring party from San Francisco composed of Mrs. W. J. Evans, Miss Helen Masson, Miss Clara Evans and W. Hall Evans is registered at the New Rossmore hotel, where other San Francisco guests include Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Milliken, J. E. Judge and William B. Saunders, Mrs. Ray Timmer and son and Miss Helen Makem are motorists from Fresno, while San Diego is represented by H. H. Halbut, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Morley, G. Paulsen, J. E. Hitch, J. Harrington, J. Buck and M. Greathouse. Other guests are Mrs. E. B. Ransom, South Pasadena; E. S. Walker, Brea; Mark Hitchcock, Westmoreland; Dr. and Mrs. Forest Pierce, Redlands; Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Cruise, Piedmont; Miss M. Morrell, Lt. and Mrs. E. L. Kempton, Misses Louise and Katherine Kempton and James Kempton of Vallejo; J. M. McElroy, Los Angeles; Isadore Bernstein, New York; E. J. Wilkinson and E. R. Pierce, Salt Lake City.

After an illness of six weeks, Mrs. George Jones, aged 33, 1007 Chestnut street, passed away at the Community hospital yesterday afternoon. She leaves a husband and eight children, two brothers, W. S. Shants, of Los Angeles; and two sisters, Mrs. R. M. Malone, of Hutchinson, Kansas; and Mrs. Flora Rust, of Los Angeles. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mission Funeral home of Mills and Winbiger.

Ramon Zuniga, 9-year-old Mexican boy, who was badly cut and bruised last Thursday evening when he was struck by a handcar at Hansen, is rapidly recovering from his injuries at the county hospital. Zuniga was herding cattle when he lay on the Pacific Electric right of way and fell asleep. The four men who were operating the handcar called to see the youth in time to prevent the accident.

That more cantaloupes were raised and shipped from Imperial valley this year than ever before, is the statement of Arthur La Londe, 629 North Birch street, who has returned from there. La Londe says that more than 10,000 carloads were shipped from Imperial this season, averaging 220 cars a day, and were sent to points as far north as Canada and as far east as Cuba. Close to 30,000 acres were under cantaloupe cultivation this year, he says. La Londe has been in the employ of the Randolph Marketing company for several years.

Clarence Gustlin of Santa Ana and Dolph Kelsey of Garden Grove, left this morning for an extended automobile trip through the northern part of the state. They expect to be gone for six weeks visiting Sequoia national park, Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, Crater Lake and may go as far north as Portland, Oregon.

Owing to continued ill health, R. W. Binkley, of the mercantile firm of Binkley and Lentz, 1139 West Fourth street, has disposed of his interest in the firm to his partner, George Lentz, and will retire to private life. The business started only a few months ago and will continue to operate under the direction of George Lentz, now sole owner and proprietor.

The Breckenridge, Texas, Daily American, founded by Thomas L. Baxter, former owner of The Brea Progress, has just celebrated its first anniversary by issuing a special edition of 164,400 pages. Baxter has disposed of his interests in the publication. Breckenridge is a new oil town in Texas and has increased its population from 1836 persons in 1920, to an estimated population at this time of 27,560 persons.

The outline of the new constitution of the Spurgeon Efficiency club will be presented tonight at the meeting of the club members at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin R. Hall, 191 Orange avenue. Stanley Reed, chairman of the committee to draw up the new constitution, will present the results of the committee's efforts and a general discussion will follow. F. L. Curtis, western representative of the Kieriflex Rug company of Duluth, Minn., will give an exposition of the merits of this make of rug for which the Spurgeon company has recently taken the agency. The evening will end with an informal social hour during which the hostess will serve light refreshments.

The open door policy of China, valiantly fought for by Hughes, must be definitely agreed upon at the conference. Other Pacific questions which might prove obstacles to disarmament, such as Japan's mandate over Yap, also must be smoothed out.

Following are the salient points of the decision to call the conference: The decision to call the conference is that by this step the administration has virtually begun the frame work of its promised association of nations to prevent war.

Hughes and Harding included in the call the questions now uppermost in the Pacific. It has been pointed out that disarmament hinges on the events in that territory. It has been made plain that American sentiment is opposed to the Anglo-Japanese alliance. This question will be threshed out in the conference and the result will probably be that this pact will be allowed to die.

For Open Door Policy China, valiantly fought for by Hughes, must be definitely agreed upon at the conference. Other Pacific questions which might prove obstacles to disarmament, such as Japan's mandate over Yap, also must be smoothed out.

BRITISH LEADER SUPPORTS MOVE OF PRESIDENT

cific like the Great Lakes as far as armaments go, provided the United States can reach an agreement to make it mutual with Great Britain and Japan. These three nations are the only ones that have real navies, or are likely to have in the next century. There is no need for warships on the Pacific than there is for Canada and the United States to have large and tax-burdening battle fleets on the Great Lakes.

"An agreement to disarm in the Pacific should be easily reached if approached in the proper spirit by this country. If Japan has to go on building battleships she will be bankrupt within ten years. England cannot undertake to build a Pacific fleet herself, and her colonies are very hesitant about undertaking the large expense of contributing three-fifths of the cost of a Pacific fleet—the toll that England will exact if she builds a Pacific fleet.

"Big Move for Peace
"I believe the proposed conference is the biggest step in the direction of world peace which has been made since the Kaiser was overthrown and German militarism crushed.

"I do not believe that the conference will at first discuss the question of disarmament of the world's armies, as that is a very much more difficult problem. However, the inclusion of France, the world's greatest military power, and of Italy, which has had similar ambitions, may bear fruit at later conferences, wider in scope and including a number of other nations, which will attempt to reduce the standing armies of the world and send soldiers back to civilian life where they belong."

EXPECTS FAVORABLE REPLY TO DISARMAMENT MOVE

WASHINGTON, July 11.—This government expects a favorable response from all five nations which received tentative invitations to a disarmament conference in Washington.

The belief was expressed in a highly authoritative quarter today that all the powers invited will send representatives to discuss a cut in the world armies and navies and to settle questions bearing on the Pacific and Far Eastern problems.

That such an international gathering will "secure the peace of the world" was the statement of an official in emphasizing the importance of the step the administration has taken.

Weeks Approves Move
"A disarmament conference was bound to come," said Secretary of War Weeks today. "It has my approval."

It was also explained why the proposal for the conference was broadened to include land as well as naval armaments; why countries other than the United States, Great Britain and Japan, the principal naval powers, were included, and it was intimated that many of the obstacles heretofore in the way of disarmament may be wiped out before the conference actually meets.

Officials also said they are not clear as yet as to how soon the conference can be held or how it will be organized. It was pointed out that the question of naval and land armaments could not be well separated; that if the principal naval powers were to get together, the question of land armaments would almost surely come up and then the conference might have to be broadened after it was under way.

Invite France and Italy
The decision that land armaments be discussed necessitated the invitations to France and Italy, both of which maintain large armies.

The Yap question, the subject of numerous notes between the United States, Japan and other principal allied powers, has been admittedly one of the things in the way of a disarmament agreement. This may be settled before the disarmament conference. If it is not it will come up in the conference since relations in the Pacific is one of the subjects in the preliminary call.

The Anglo-Japanese treaty, another thing long bothersome to disarmament advocates, will probably await the gathering of the conference, however.

Following the informal query to the great powers, asking whether they would be willing to enter into such a conference, Secretary Hughes was today preparing the official invitations in order to be ready to dispatch them upon receipt of word that they are acceptable.

Bound to Accept
Great Britain and Japan, through public statements of their leaders, have already bound themselves to join in a disarmament conference if the United States should call it.

SEEKS RELEASE FOR BLUEBEARD SUSPECT

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, July 11.—Demand for immediate filing of information in the case of the state against Mrs. Lydia M. Southard, alleged feminine "bluebeard" will be made either this evening or tomorrow and motion will be made in the district court that she be admitted to bail, according to William P. Guthrie, leading counsel for Mrs. Southard. In the event that information should not be forthcoming, habeas corpus proceedings will be instituted, Guthrie said.

MEXICAN DYING AS RESULT OF CRASH

Francisco Aguilar, 37, Mexican, was believed to be dying at the county hospital today of pneumonia and other complications which developed following an accident late Saturday night in which he was badly hurt. Dr. H. E. Zaiser said that the man's recovery was not expected.

Aguilar and another Mexican whose name has not been learned by the authorities were riding in a buggy on Myrtle boulevard between Flores and Catalina street, Los Alamitos, late Saturday when their rig was struck by an automobile driven by Felix Stepp, of Los Alamitos.

According to Stepp there was no lights on the buggy and it was being driven on the wrong side of the highway. He says he did not see the vehicle until he was almost upon it and had no time to avoid a collision.

Both Mexicans were thrown from their seat.

Aguilar sustained a deep cut in his forehead and internal injuries.

Aguilar was removed to the county hospital in the county ambulance after being given first aid by an Artesia physician.

exaggerated because it had no records which would indicate that any such number of Japanese had emigrated to Mexico.

Harada alleged that the company was organized in 1912 to purchase 85,000 acres of land in the state of Sinaloa. The land was to be cut up into small tracts for settlers.

The complaint states, however, that the land was air and that furthermore a valid title did not vest in the company, which merely pretended that it owned it.

Postmaster Involved

Large amounts have since that time been obtained from would-be settlers and investors, the complaint charges, one of the principal dupes being a postmaster near Osaka, who invested 70,000 yen. He was recently arrested on a charge of having embezzled large sums from the government.

Consul Oyama, it is alleged, certified to intending purchasers that the company's title was good and has been giving the concern every assistance available.

When the land was found by the would-be settlers to be arid, those connected with the company, it is charged, proceeded to charge from $500 to $800 to smuggle them into the United States by way of Lower California.

WILL USE CARE IN SELECTING BOARD

SACRAMENTO, July 11.—Ability rather than prestige will be the guide in selecting ex-service men for the positions on the newly created Stephens announced today.

A number of ex-service men with land values and acquaintance with vocational training needs and possibilities, are being watched by the governor.

"I must use the greatest care and impartiality in selecting the men who will preside very largely over the destinies of all the veterans in the state," said the governor. "There is a wealth of material for these positions, but I am going to scrutinize them with great care."

The welfare board will have charge of distribution of the soldier load, and educational and land settlement measures passed by the last legislature.

Fred Bergehall of San Francisco, state adjutant of the American Legion, is the most talked of candidate for the position of chairman of the welfare board. Four other members are also to be named.

SUES T. TALBERT AS RESULT OF FIST ROW

Disclosing what was apparently a spirited fist battle in which T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board of supervisors, and Robert C. Avery of Long Beach, were the participants, a legal document was filed in superior court here today through which it was learned that Avery recently brought suit against Talbert for $10,255 damages growing out of the encounter.

The document filed here today was an answer and cross-complaint filed on behalf of Talbert.

Avery alleges in his complaint, which is on file in the superior court that he was assaulted by Talbert May 25 in the latter's private office at Huntington Beach.

Nose Broken, Claim
The Long Beach man asserts that as a result of the battle he sustained a broken nose, the loss of several teeth, a cut lip and a battered face and chest.

In his answer Talbert denies that he struck Avery without cause and claims that he acted in self-defense, being of the opinion that Avery was about to do him bodily harm.

In his cross-complaint Talbert seeks $2,650 damages. He asserts that he dislocated a joint of one finger of his right hand and broke a bone in the same hand.

According to Talbert, Avery came into his private office and the two engaged in a dispute over a real estate transaction.

Blows Struck
Avery is alleged to have told Talbert that the latter would not dare say to his face what he had told him over the telephone.

Talbert declared that he would repeat anything that he had said over the wire.

Avery then is alleged to have approached Talbert while he was seated in his swivel chair and to have threatened him by shaking his fists in his face. Believing that he was about to be struck, Talbert then proceeded to defend himself.

Each bill for damages includes doctor's fees and loss of money by reason of being unable to attend to regular business affairs.

George E. and Philip McCaughan are attorneys for Avery and Blodgett and Blodgett are attorneys for Talbert.

More than 100 women organizations entered contestants in the spring games recently held in Paris.

Madame Curie, the noted French scientist, was awarded the Noble prize for physics in 1903.

LINK MOVIE MEN TO PROBE INTO WINE DINNERS

United Press Leased Wire
BOSTON, July 11.—The names of several prominent movie magnates today were dragged into the case of District Attorney Tufts of Middlesex county, whom Attorney General Allen seeks to have removed from office.

Special Assistant Attorney General Henry Hurbut, making his opening statement to the five supreme court justices who are hearing the case, made the following allegations:

1.—That $100,000 "hush money" was extracted from guests who attended a wine dinner at Mishawum Manor, Woburn, to protect them from exposure. It is charged Tufts was involved in this.

2.—That the bill for this dinner—$1,050—was paid by the Paramount Moving Picture company, and was approved by Hiram Abrams, official of that concern, who with Adolph Zukor, well known movie magnate, is alleged to have been at the feast.

Hurbut, in discussing the charge that $100,000 hush money was obtained, told of various checks that changed hands after conferences in which Daniel H. Coakley, prominent Boston attorney, and others were leading figures.

"We are unable," Hurbut said, "to trace any part of the $100,000 directly as having been paid to Tufts, but will produce evidence which we will say will raise a strong suspicion that he allowed himself to be influenced to help his friend Coakley and to the great injury of the public."

Dinner For "Fatty."
Hurbut said that the revels at Mishawum Manor followed a dinner at a fashionable Boston hotel in honor of "Fatty" Arbuckle on the night of March 6, 1917. The revels were arranged by some one unknown to him, he said.

On May 11, while he was in Portland, Maine, Abrams received a telephone call from James M. Curley, then mayor of Boston, Hurbut said, in which Curley notified Abrams to return to Boston at once, as a serious matter was to develop and to bring an attorney with him.

ARMY AIR OFFICERS TO PROBE ACCIDENT

United Press Leased Wire
MOUNDSVILLE, Va., July 11.—Army officials from Washington and Dayton, Ohio, flying fields were on route here today to conduct an official investigation into an airplane accident which took a toll of five lives injured more than a score of persons and destroyed sixteen automobiles.

The accident occurred when a giant Martin bombing plane, taking off from the local field, plunged into a line of automobiles. One of the gasoline tanks of the bomber exploded, spreading fire over the cars. Most of the dead and injured were caught in the burning machines.

Lieutenant M. C. MacIver and Lieutenant E. H. Duntton, were in the airplane. They escaped with slight injuries.

S. A. MAN'S AUTO IS FOUND AT WILMINGTON

Robert Emmerson, 1046 West Pine street, left for Wilmington early this morning to recover his Ford touring car, which was stolen from in front of the post office here about 10 o'clock last Saturday night.

The car was abandoned at Wilmington. A resident of that place who observed the car standing in front of his home for several hours notified Emmerson by telephone. Emmerson's name and address appeared on the registration certificate in the car.

Police officers today were seeking the owner of a motorcycle and sidecar which stood in front of the Santa Ana Machine works all day yesterday and last night.

Ed Burke, night watchman for the Southern Counties Gas company, notified the police that the motorcycle had apparently been abandoned.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER CARR BACK ON JOB

Motorcycle Officer O. K. Carr is riding the county highways again, having resumed his active duties Saturday evening. Carr was severely injured April 22, last, when he smashed into an automobile driven by George Shoebridge on North Main street. Shoebridge was tried in the justice court and found guilty of reckless driving.

Carr sustained a fracture of both ankles and a bad cut over his left eye. He was in the county hospital for several days and walked with the aid of crutches for several weeks.

Traffic Officer H. S. Warner, whose wife died last week, also was riding the highways again today.

Officer Vernon ("Shorty") Myers is on his vacation. He and his wife are enjoying a brief sojourn in Baer Valley.

WATER COMPANY ASKS 25 PCT. RATE BOOST

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Asking a 25 per cent increase in rates, the Euclid Avenue Water company of South Pasadena today filed an application for a new schedule of rates with the railroad commission.

The company stated that practically all its water users have signified their willingness to pay the increased rates. The company states that unless its rates are increased it will sustain an operating deficit for the year.

KABER NURSE BARES DETAILS OF MURDER

United Press Leased Wire
CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 11.—The first witness in the Catherine Eva Kaber murder trial today was F. W. Utterback, former nurse of Dan Kaber, wealthy Lakewood publisher, who was stabbed to death two years ago.

Utterback described how he was attracted by the cries of the dying man, who had been stabbed twenty-four times by assassins who crept into his home during the night. He charged that Kaber in a dying statement said:

"My God, my wife had this done." Mrs. Emma Colavito, midwife, charged with furnishing arsenic and then the assassins when the poison failed, was recalled for cross examination by the defense.

Attorneys for Mrs. Kaber will attempt to discredit the midwife's charge, made Saturday, that Mrs. Kaber hired the assassins to murder Kaber and not to beat him up as the widow maintains.

BOOST CHICAGO FOR ELKS HEADQUARTERS

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Chicago will probably be permanent national headquarters for the B. P. O. E. This was the announcement today of John K. Tener, former governor of Pennsylvania and head of the committee on establishment of national headquarters.

A report recommending Chicago to be submitted to Grand Exalted Ruler William R. Abbott tomorrow, Tener said. The Illinois metropolis was selected for the new $2,500,000 headquarters building after the committee had visited Washington, Columbus, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Dubuque, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Denver, Louisville and Omaha.

Members of the headquarters committee who will sign the Tener report are Joseph T. Fanning of New York, James R. Nicholson of Boston, Edward Righter of New Orleans, Mayor Frederick Harper of Lynchburg, Va., and Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis.

ELKS' AIR TOURNEY IS PLANNED AT L. A.

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—How the navy would block a possible invasion of America in the air will be shown to the public for the first time at the international air tournament to be staged at the Los Angeles Speedway Saturday and Sunday, July 16 and 17. One hundred aircraft have been entered by the navy in the show and master torpedo planes, relics of the airships, used in the World War to blow up the German ships off the Atlantic coast, will be seen in actual battle against a scenic submarine 200 feet long set at a safe distance so that the safety of the spectators will not be jeopardized, although within easy sight of all assembled to view the spectacle.

The navy department is co-operating with the Aero club of Southern California that the public may appreciate the protection given by the guards of the lives, liberty and property of the American people.

ILLINOIS GRAFT PROBE JURORS LAUNCH QUIZ

United Press Leased Wire
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—The $10,000,000 Illinois graft scandal was placed before the Sangamon county grand jury today.

In the grand jury room of the old court house where Abraham Lincoln practiced law, evidence tended to show manipulation of huge sums of state funds for private gain, was unfolded under the direction of State's Attorney Fred Mortimer.

Result of Political Feud
The investigation resulting from a bitter political feud between Governor Len Small and Attorney General Edward Brundage, was designed to strike at some of the highest officials in the state government.

Employees of the state treasurer's office were busy early in the day carrying huge bundles of records and books showing the use of state funds over the last six years, to the grand jury room.

Their chief, Edward Miller, state treasurer, was the first witness called to testify before the grand jury.

Although Miller was nominated and elected while running on the same political factions' ticket as Governor Small, the disclosures of the treasurer are said to have brought about the investigation. Small was treasurer for two terms.

Big Loan to Packers
A safety deposit box which had been guarded day and night at a local bank, was taken to the grand jury room. Best information was that the box contained evidence showing that the Chicago packers were loaned $10,000,000 by the state. Only 2 per cent interest was said to have been obtained on the loan. In this connection, prominent bankers of Kankakee, the home town of Governor Small, have been summoned to tell what they know of the transaction. These bankers were reported to have acted as intermediaries in obtaining the loans.

AMUNDSEN SHIP IN TOW OF U. S. VESSEL

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, July 11.—The schooner Maud, owned by Captain Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, has been found by the United States coast guard cutter Bear, and both vessels now are at Whalen, Siberia, the treasury department today announced.

A radio message from the Bear, sent out to find the Amundsen craft, which the explorer was forced to abandon when it became frozen in the ice, stated that the cutter would tow the explorer's ship to Nome, Alaska, as soon as the weather moderated.

Amundsen and the crew recently reached Alaska.

Whalen is a small Siberian village about 200 miles from Nome.

LAY POISONING PLOT TO WOMAN'S REVENGE

COMANCHE, Tex., July 11.—The revenge of a woman scorned, authorities declared, was back of the poisoning of the family of five of Mrs. Will T. Johnson here.

Miss Flora Moffitt was held, charged with having sent poison, concealed in plum jelly, to the Johnson family.

Miss Moffitt was claimed by police to be in love with Harry Johnson, a son. Harry had recently been fined $500 in court here on action brought by Miss Moffitt as a result of their intimacy.

When Johnson refused to marry her, Miss Moffitt tried to poison the family, authorities claimed.

Physicians said that the poison might prove fatal to all five who ate the jelly.

Three More Boys Work for Bicycles and Subs.

Three more Orange county boys are at work today in The Register's Indian Bicycle campaign. They are Dale Shartel of Balboa, David Merle Boyle and Elwood Roderick of Santa Ana. This brings the list of boys and girls who are busy in the campaign up to thirty-five.

The live wires who reported at The Register office this morning were making fine progress toward earning one of the Indian bicycles which The Register is offering. In this campaign, just as it is in every other work worth while, the results are expected to depend almost entirely upon the effort that is made by the workers. The boys and girls who really WORK will be successful. A few minutes now and then employed in solicitation cannot be expected to win a bicycle in a few days. The worker who goes out and puts all his time in soliciting for a few days will find it easy to win a bicycle. It's WORK that gets results all the way through life. Of course there are many boys and girls who cannot devote all their time to this work every day, but they all have until September first to earn a bicycle and there is no reason for getting discouraged.

The Register will pay cash for the subscriptions turned in by the workers who fail to get a bicycle. Some of the hustlers who are now at work say they expect to get at least two bicycles before school starts. It will be interesting to see who gets the first new bike.

Theatres

BIG VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM AT YOST THEATER

"Mme. Camille's Birds," one of the most spectacular and novel vaudeville attractions now on the "big time," will be the headline act on the Meiklejohn and Dunn vaudeville road show program at the Yost theater tomorrow, and Wednesday. This act contains more than thirty birds and the feathered entertainers are as attractive a collection of birds as have ever been gotten together.

Their show is in eight acts and includes a Roman chariot race, horizontal bar act, jumping the hurdles, balancing on the revolving globe, a sulky race, a skirt dance, a tango dance and the cockatoo fire brigade going to a fire. This last is most thrilling and shows the brigade salvaging the furniture and saving the occupants of a burning building.

Of course, the big feature act is but one act on the program, but it is by far the greatest headline act ever brought here and deserves special mention. The Northern Comedy Four, a quartette of singing comedians, is also on the bill, as is Othello, the Orpheum circuit "musical clown," who has headlined programs from coast to coast. Gard and Gard, "vaudevillians de luxe," close this exceptional program.

On this same program Alice Brady in her latest photoplay, "Out of the Chorus," will be shown. Miss Brady is one of the most beautiful and popular stars in filmdom and the coming of her pictures is always awaited with interest.

The usual popular prices will be in effect for this show.

YEGGS STEAL $5000 FROM BASEBALL SAFE

CHICAGO, July 11.—The safe in the business office of the White Sox baseball club was looted early today and $5,000 stolen. Thomas Amos, night watchman, is being held for questioning.

SOCIETY BREAK

A JUNE LOVE SONG.

Play it slowly, sing it lowly.
Old familiar tune!
Once again in dance and duple,
Like a brook in June;
Now it sobs along the measures
With a round of tears;
Dear old voices echo through it,
Vanished with the years.

Play it slowly—it is holy
As an evening hymn;
Morning gladness hushed to sadness
Fills it to the brim.
Memories come within the music,
Stealing through the bars;
Thoughts within its quiet spaces
Rise and set like stars.

Ripple, ripple, goes the love song
Till, in slowing time,
Early sweetness grown completeness
Floods its very rhyme;
Who together learn the music
Life and death unfold,
Know that love is but beginning
Until love is old.

Singing, singing, through the roses
Went our lovers twain—
Was there ever such a rose time,
Could there be again?
Now they tell us, "Five-and-twenty
Jones we've seen them blow;
Every June's completer, sweet-er"
Well, we lovers know!"
—William Channing Gannett.

What Southern California Woman's Clubs Are Doing

"That the highway question is too important in its bearing on American life to be left in the hands of a bureaucratic management, and that congress should create a federal highway commission to administer this essential activity, is the opinion expressed by Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, chairman of the department of applied education, the General Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. W. L. Arnold, chairman of the committee on roads, in general charge of the highway work of the organization.

"After a full discussion of this subject at our biennial council meeting in Salt Lake City this month, the delegates present representing some 2,000,000 American women, strongly endorsed these principles as contained in the measure introduced by Senator Townsend," declared Mrs. Sherman, "and those of us in charge of highway matters were instructed to do all we could to secure passage of this measure."

"It is not necessary for us to point out the real interest of American women in highway matters. The influence of real highways on country life, on economics, on education, is now generally understood. What is needed now is a national highway policy which will conserve government funds and through concentration of federal money on main highways, which will give us a connected system at the earliest moment and the least expense. To do this, the federal viewpoint must prevail and the best expression of that is found in a highway commission."

FILM FLASHES

Rupert Hughes writes "wicked scenarios," according to the cameraman. They are full of camera tricks and stunts.

Jackie Coogan finds it necessary to employ a secretary to take charge of his correspondence, just like all celebrated stars, so great is the little youngster's popularity.

Gladys Brockwell has recently signed with the Novo film syndicate. Production will be on five-reel society dramas, the work to begin this month.

Wesley Barry is one boy in the United States who says there "ain't no such critter" as a vacation, as his teacher sees to it the year 'round that he receives his daily lessons in the three "r's."

Ruth Renick, former ingenue of the Majestic theater in Los Angeles, is featured in "The Golden Snore," a James Oliver Curwood production directed by David Herford. Lewis Stone plays opposite her.

Sam De Grasse and Edwin Stevens, both notables of the picturedrama, declares that the motion picture camera can photograph thought. Both declare that the "thinking" actor registers his thoughts upon the screen.

TO COMPLETE INQUEST IN IRVINE FATALITY

Plans were in readiness today for the completion of the inquest in connection with the death of Mrs. Emma Wright, who was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile near Irvine about two weeks ago. The inquest will be completed tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 at the office of Coroner Charles D. Brown. With the testimony of W. H. Clark, driver of the car which struck Mrs. Wright, and of S. E. Culp, who accompanied him. Both Clarkson and Culp are expected to reach Santa Ana tomorrow morning from their homes in San Diego, where they went shortly after reaching Santa Ana from their hurried trip from Sacramento in answer to the announcement of Mrs. Wright's death. The greater part of the testimony in the case has been taken by Coroner Brown, so that a very short time will suffice to hear their testimony and complete the inquest, it was stated.

Entertains For Daughter's Schoolmates at Stanford

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davis entertained at a charmingly-appointed dinner Friday evening in compliment to their daughter, Miss Laura Davis, and a coterie of her collegemates from Stanford university.

The table was artistically decorated in an effective color scheme featuring the cardinal of Stanford, relieved with white. Covers were marked for:

The Misses Marguerite Tedford, Ardis Burns and Lorraine Larimer; Messrs. Fred Forry, Cecil Van Wyk, Maxwell Jayne and Robert Burns, the honoree and the host and hostess.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

ONTARIO — City Service Manager F. E. Alford announces that the Eastside sewer system has been completed south of Nosta street. This includes all the territory between Nosta and the railroad tracks and between Sultana and Campus. The Eastside system, from Nosta street north, is under construction, and the work is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily in every way.

SAN DIEGO — The harbor commission has authorized the city council to cancel tideland leases and wharf franchises held by the San Diego and Arizona Railroad. The railroad company asked that the lands be abandoned. The Union Oil company will be permitted to build a pipe line dock on the abandoned lands.

LONG BEACH — The "one-man street car" is to make its debut in Long Beach. It is announced by Transmaster Williams of the Pacific Electric. One-man cars are to be put on Seventh street as soon as repairs to the street are completed and probably later will find their way to the Magnolia and Pine avenue lines.

RIVERSIDE — Street department workmen are using a 1700 disc similar to those used for cultivating on farms, to remove the bumps on the oil-surface on the west side of Magnolia, between Adams and Monroe streets. The disc is drawn by a tractor. The many blades on the disc cut down the elevated parts of the street to the level of the highway surface and the material cut off the bumps is used to fill the deeper chuck holes. In addition to the disc the tractor drags a grader, which is followed by a rotary broom.

POMONA — That all of Spadra and possibly Walnut will be annexed to the Pomona high school district under a law passed by the recent session of the state legislature, was the statement made this morning by E. T. Keiser, president of the Pomona board of education. The annexation of these districts to the Pomona school district would result in an increase of approximately $2,000,000 in the assessed valuation of property in the Pomona district and would bring added revenue to the schools.

SAN BERNARDINO — San Bernardino delegates to the state convention of the American Legion, to be held in Yosemite this month, will be instructed to invite the Legion men to the San Bernardino mountains for the convention in 1922. A strong fight will be made by the local delegates to have the convention in the mountains of San Bernardino.

Installation of Officers Sycamore Rebekah Lodge Is Made Gala Affair

More than 175 persons, representatives of the seven Rebekah lodges of Orange county, witnessed the impressive and beautiful installation of the new officers of the Sycamore Rebekah lodge 140, at the Odd Fellows hall here, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Mary Swift, district deputy president, and Mrs. Clark, deputy grand marshal, with a very able staff, of the Acacia Rebekah lodge, of Huntington Beach, installed the following new officers of the local lodge:

Past noble grand, Miss Marian Davis; noble grand, Mrs. Ivy Olson; vice grand, Mrs. Lenore Wilson; recording secretary, Mrs. Hattie Peters; financial secretary, Mrs. Kate Clark; treasurer, Mrs. Martha Taylor; warden, Mrs. Esther Gardner; conductor, Mrs. Adabelle Driver; right supporter to noble grand, Mrs. Ruby Greeley; left supporter to noble grand, Mrs. Maude Wiley; right supporter to vice grand, Mrs. Florence Crawford; left supporter to vice grand, Miss Nina Haid; inside guardian, Mrs. Bessie Stovall; outside guardian, Mrs. Nellie Mae Waggoner; chaplain, Mrs. Grace Benjamin; right altar supporter, Mrs. Gladys Rees; left altar supporter, Mrs. Elizabeth Haid; banner bearers, Mesdames Jennie Prevost, Inez Baker, Clara Eckels and Miss Hazel Rees.

The newly-installed officers, as well as those who installed them, were presented with beautiful flowers and lovely gifts by the local lodge. After the installation ceremony, several interesting speeches were made by representatives of the county lodges and the remainder of the evening was spent in the banquet room, where dainty refreshments were served.

El Modena Women to Picnic at County Park

The members of the Women's Missionary society and W. C. T. U. of El Modena, cordially invite their families and friends to meet with them at Orange County park tomorrow evening for a picnic supper, which will be served promptly at 6 o'clock. Everyone will bring a basket of goodies for the feast.

Too Many Spinsters

"In England they're getting alarmed about the number of spinsters parked around in apartment houses and taking up room in the picture shows," says Ruth Agnes Abeling in the Riverside Press.

"Miss Dorothy Evans, secretary of the Association of Women Clerks and Secretaries, has announced that in her opinion there is only one way to reduce the vast army of the unwed—by settling a state dowry on them.

America ought to have a nice secretary like that to speak right out for the girls. Some one who has their interest at heart.

Just think what a fine arrangement it would be to have your state give you a thousand or two or three and let you shop around for a husband, just as you would for a suit or a pair of shoes or a tooth brush. You could take your little dog down town with you and look them all over. If you didn't like the way he combed his hair or the kind of glasses he wore you could go on to the next lot.

And maybe some days they'd have special bargains, dollar days and that sort of thing. And I wonder, kind sir, when they begin this putting of a price on the heads of husbands, will there be any approvals, exchanges or refunds?

Christian Education

Roger W. Babson

The need of the hour is not more factories or materials, not more railroads or steamships, not more armies or more navies, but rather more education based on the plain teachings of Jesus. The prosperity of our country depends on the motives and purposes of the people. These motives and purposes are directed in the right course only through religion. Legislation, bounties, or force of no avail in determining man's attitude toward life. Harmony at home and peace with the world will only be determined in the same way.

Religion, like everything else of value, must be taught. It is possible to get more religion in industry and business only through the development of Christian education and leadership. With the forces of evil backed by men and money, systematically organized to destroy, we must back with men and money all campaigns for Christian education.

We are willing to give our property and even our lives when our country calls in time of war. Yet the call of Christian education is today of even greater importance than was ever the call of the army or the navy. I say this because we shall probably never live to see America attacked from without, but we may at any time see our best institutions attacked from within.

I am offering Christian education as a protector of property because nearly all of the great progressiveness and liberal movements of history have been born in the hearts of Christian educators. I do, however, insist that the safety of our sons and daughters, as they go out on the streets this very night, is due to the influence of the preachers rather than to the influence of the policemen and lawmakers. Yet the safety of our nation, including all groups, depends on Christian education. Furthermore, at no time in our history, has it been more greatly needed.

We insure our houses and factories, our automobiles and our stock investments, and we insure our lives, but the same amount of money invested in Christian education would give far greater results. Besides, Christian education can insure what no corporation can insure—namely, prosperity.

As the great life insurance companies are spending huge sums on doctors, scientific investigations, and district nurses to improve the health of the nation, so we business men should spend huge sums to develop those fundamental religious qualities of integrity, industry, faith, and services, which make for true prosperity. I repeat, the need of the hour is not more factories or materials, not more railroads or steamships, not more armies or navies—but rather more Christian education. This is not the time to reduce investments in schools and colleges at home, or in Y. M. C. A. and similar work in China, Japan, Russia, or South America. This is the time of all times to increase such subscriptions.

VISITING ELK HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

B. Goldberg, businessman of Philadelphia, had to come all the way to Santa Ana to experience the sensation of being mixed up in an automobile accident, and today was wearing gauze on his forehead for a wound sustained late Saturday afternoon in an accident at Second and Bush streets.

Goldberg came to Los Angeles to attend the convention of Elks. He arrived a few days before to look over the agencies he has in Southern California. Returning to Los Angeles from San Diego Saturday afternoon, he was passing through Santa Ana in company with a friend. While driving north on Bush the car in which he was riding was bumped by a machine driven by Ed Cordero, of Huntington Beach. The bumped car turned over and Goldberg's forehead was cut by a piece of glass from the windshield. The wound was dressed by a local physician and he continued on his way to Los Angeles, returning to Santa Ana today for further treatment.

LOCAL ELKS TO ENTER PARADE THURSDAY

Final arrangements are being completed for the entrance of scores of members of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., in the Elks' parade to be held in Los Angeles Thursday morning.

Leaders in the lodge are urging that every member who can possibly do so join the parade. The members of the local lodge will meet at 10 o'clock Thursday morning on Fourteenth street, between Hill and Grand, Los Angeles.

Five members of Santa Ana lodge have been selected as assistant in guards for the national convention, starting tomorrow morning. These five are W. C. Jerome, Dr. M. A. Patton, H. A. Gardner, W. W. Wasser and R. C. Peterson, the latter being also delegate of the lodge to the grand lodge sessions.

Walter Eden, exalted ruler of Santa Ana lodge, will sit in the grand lodge sessions.

BURIAL CLAIM IS WITHDRAWN BY UNDERTAKER

J. E. Seale, of Fullerton, undertaker, who last Tuesday was cited to appear before the board of supervisors tomorrow in relation to a claim of $75 presented to the county for the burial of a soldier who died overseas, said today that he did not expect to appear.

"At the time I put in the claim," he said, "I did not know that the government would allow an allowance of $100 for the funeral expenses. Last Wednesday I went to the courthouse with A. V. Knowlton, who is the agent who o. k.'s claims for the burial of former soldiers, sailors and marines under the state law. "We explained that we did not know about the government allowance, and I am not expecting that the claim for $75 will be paid. We asked that it be taken from the files."

At the meeting last Tuesday the demand was referred to W. S. Gregg, county aid commissioner. Gregg will recommend to the board of supervisors tomorrow that the demand be rejected.

The demand is in the hands of the county clerk. The records of the board of supervisors show the citation to be for Seale's appearance tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Formal notice of the citation has been sent to Seale by County Clerk Backs.

CITY SUES FIRMS FOR LICENSE TAX

Complaints charging a number of local men, liable for a business tax with failure to pay for the second quarter of this year today were placed in the hands of City Marshal Sam Jernigan for service.

Jernigan was making an investigation to ascertain whether the individuals are in business. If so they will be cited to appear before W. F. Heathman, city recorder, and show cause why they should not be fined for failure to pay the tax.

G. H. Scott, city attorney, drew up the complaints this morning, the names against whom charges are made being drawn promiscuously from the list of delinquents.

It is said that there are a number of delinquencies. Suits are being brought to test the validity of the ordinance, if any of those complained against want to take the matter into the higher courts, and to impress upon all who are engaged in any kind of business that they must pay the license fee.

Gravel haulers, real estate dealers, in fact one engaged in any character of business, must pay the tax, the new ordinance covering every branch of business endeavor.

Most of the delinquents, it is said, are parties engaged in minor business activities. It is possible they have overlooked the matter completely, having not been accustomed to paying the tax in the past.

Prior to January, this year, when the new license ordinance became effective, very few fines were taxed. Fees under the new ordinance increase the revenue of the city from business licenses from around $4000 to approximately $12,000 annually.

IRVINE DRILLER SUCCEUMBS TO INJURIES

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Smith & Tuthill parlors over the remains of Welden Hollis, 42, of Irvine, who died at the Community hospital yesterday evening of injuries sustained Sunday, July 3, when the automobile which he was driving turned over.

Hollis sustained a broken back, several lacerations and bruises. His lower limbs were partially paralyzed and he was in a semi-conscious condition while confined at the hospital. Death relieved his sufferings about 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

According to a report of the accident on file at the sheriff's office, Hollis lost control of his Ford car while traveling on First street, near B. Tustin. A front wheel of his car went off the highway and in attempting to right the machine it turned over, pinning the driver underneath.

A. D. Hollis and E. D. Hollis, brothers of the deceased, made arrangements for the funeral this morning.

The deceased was an oil driller and had made his home at Irvine for some time.

BOY SCOUT CAMP NO PLACE FOR DOGS THAT TEAR AFTER BUNNIES

Elmer E. Heldt, scout executive, today warned all persons visiting the Boy Scout camp not to bring dogs, unless they want them to look like or suffer the tortures of an animated pincushion.

The warning came as the result of an experience suffered by the thoroughbred bulldog owned by Mr. and Mrs. Pearl B. Johnson, 1327 North Broadway, who, taking the dog along, motored to the camp to see Master Ned Johnson.

As any good dog would do, this particular one "took after" one of the many rabbits that inhabit the vicinity of the camp. Bre'r Rabbit led his puser through a thick patch of cactus, with the result that the dog emerged looking like a porcupine, and, according to Heldt, there was not a spot on the poor creature the size of a finger tip that was not decorated with a cactus spine.

Heldt and his company of scouts had a splendid chance to demonstrate their first aid ability. They began by extracting the spines on the dog's back, so that he could be rested on his back while the painful operation of extracting the rest of the "stickers" was in process.

Even Fido's mouth, tail and eyes did not escape. The dog proved very patient and demonstrated his thanks as each painful spine was pulled out, with a wag of his lacerated tail and by licking the hands of his kind friends.

HOUSING SHORTAGE EASING UP CLAIM

United Press Leased Wire CHICAGO, July 17.—The swing of the tide of prices favors the renter and the builder of homes for the first time in five years, according to delegations of the national real estate convention here tomorrow.

The acute housing shortage in the large cities, especially, is starting to ease up, E. F. Taylor of Portland, Ore., president of the real estate men's organization, told the United Press.

The principal questions to be brought before the convention will be presented by committees which have been studying the housing shortage, high price of building materials and high taxes.

"We hope to work out a method at this meeting whereby the man with a small income can build a home and pay for it just as he pays rent," Taylor said.

Erwin E. Macomber, of Toledo, chairman of the committees which had the three main propositions under consideration, formulated his report today. He will recommend legislation to reduce taxes for the home builders of moderate means and a system of loans whereby homes may be built and paid for on installments, without the high interest charges which builders now must meet.

Seven thousand real estate men are here for the convention. Associated with Macomber in the work were A. J. Kell Jr., of Pittsburgh, head of the taxation committee; Fred C. Smith of the housing committee and Charles Moffet of the legislation committee.

OLD FIRE HALL IS LEASED BY KELLOGG

That F. W. Kellogg, publisher of The Los Angeles Express, has taken a lease on the building on Sycamore street now occupied by the fire department, became known today.

Kellogg expects to start a Santa Ana daily newspaper to be delivered with The Los Angeles Express.

Kellogg leased the fire hall property from the Santa Ana Masonic association, the lease to be operative on or before October 1. Kellogg was here Saturday to attach his signature to the papers and close the negotiations.

The lease is for two years, this being the longest term for which the association would rent, desiring that the expiration of the lease be coincident with the expiration of leases for other business rooms in the Masonic temple. Kellogg is to occupy the entire building now used by the fire department. He has the ground floor and second story under lease.

The date of occupancy will depend on the removal of the fire company to the new hall being built on Sycamore street opposite the office of The Register.

Contractor G. A. Barrows is pushing work on the structure and it is likely it will be completed in time for the company to move and Kellogg to install printing machinery and get his paper under operation by October 1.

FARMERS READ

The farmer has done his duty. He increased his acreage, as he was asked to do. He paid high prices for labor to plant, cultivate and father his crops. And now, through no fault of his, he is asked to sell his products at less than cost of production.

The farmer has had to lower his prices. The merchant must meet him. The retail merchant who gets down to the new low level as soon as possible, will not only help the farmer, but himself.

The Superiority of Building and Loan Investments

Over those offered by any other corporation lies in the fact that a Building and Loan Association can buy back its own stock from a member and cancel it out of existence. This means that the owner of our stock always has a selling market should he want to raise money. Many investments, although satisfactory from an interest drawing standpoint, are difficult to dispose of if one needs funds. One must sell usually in the open market and must often sacrifice in doing so. Our investments have no fluctuating value. 6% interest is paid on term investments and 7% interest on monthly investments.

COUNTY SCHOOL TRUSTEES LAY MEET PLANS

With statistics in regard to juvenile delinquency in Orange county well in hand, a number of persons interested in the establishment of a county parental school were prepared today to meet with the trustees of the schools of the county in their annual meeting which will be held at the armory next Wednesday.

Many other questions will be touched upon by the trustees during the day, among them being the school bills enacted by the recent legislature; school budgets for the year 1921-1922; purchasing supplies; the annexation of rural districts to a high school district; joining the county library.

Of them all, however, the parental school looms largest in importance, as it is held by its advocates as being of incalculable benefit to a community. It is stated by W. C. Roberts, county school attendance officer, that there are always a certain number of incorrigible truants. Returning them to school one day is followed by their unexplained absence the next day, he said. These truants add inevitably to the list of delinquents in the county and it is with the intention of providing a place where school is obligatory that the parental school is advocated.

The school would be maintained by a special tax levy which it is claimed by its adherents will not add an appreciable amount to the taxation, especially in view of the benefits to be derived.

The discussion of the school will come in the afternoon meeting, which is scheduled to open at 2 o'clock.

PARENTAL SCHOOL TO BE DISCUSSED

Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston today called a meeting of the committee on a county parental school for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, in his office in the Spurgeon building, and hopes to see every member present.

Cranston is chairman of the committee, which was appointed about a month ago by Probation Officer Paul E. Wright, who was appointed for that purpose, by a joint committee for the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, both of which organizations are keenly interested in the parental school project.

The purpose of the meeting tomorrow is to discuss generally the question of establishing such an institution.

Mrs. John Clarkson is chairman of the committee.

DECLARES MAN PAID $1037 FOR CAR HERE

In connection with the embezzlement charge placed against H. L. Shafer, formerly of Tustin, who is said to have fled to Mexico after purchasing a $2,800 Buick car from Farwell P. Hull, Santa Ana motor dealer, Hull today stated that the sum of money changing hands in the transaction was incorrectly quoted.

According to Hull, the $100 mentioned was the second payment on the car, the first payment having been $337, which was paid when Hull took over the big seven-passenger car. It was stated by Hull that the purchaser later mortgaged the car through a bank at Escondido and then crossed the border into Mexico where at present he is beyond the reach of United States authorities.

Hull has sworn out a warrant charging Shafer with embezzlement and stated that he understands the man is also wanted by San Diego authorities on a felony warrant.

TRIAL OF MAN'S SUIT ONCE MORE DEFERRED

Because of the serious illness of Joseph Bowen, defendant in a civil action brought by Otto E. Linnert, contracting painter of Orange, the case, scheduled to come up for trial this morning at 10 o'clock, was again postponed by stipulation of counsel. This marks the second time the case has been reset for trial. It is now scheduled to come up in Department No. 1 of the superior court October 24.

Linnert is suing for $1,453.11, alleged to be due for materials and labor furnished in making alterations to a dwelling house in Orange owned by Joseph Bowen and his wife, Ruth Bowen. Linnert claims that he is entitled to $413.30 for efforts in his own behalf and that the remainder of the sum sought is due through an assignment which he is alleged to have purchased.

The defendants assert in their answer to the plaintiff's complaint that the work and services performed by Linnert were not worth the sum charged by him.

JAPS PLAN TO TEST ALIEN POLL TAX LAW

OAKLAND, July 11.—Branches of the Japanese association at Berkeley, Alameda and Oakland will undertake the registration of Japanese in Alameda county under the alien poll tax law, it was announced by County Clerk George E. Cross.

The Japanese will register, it was said, before the period of registration ends August 1, and then, on the claim the law is unconstitutional, because of treaty rights, will bring a test suit to determine whether it is binding.

ARDEN, FORMER HOME OF MADAME MODJESKA, VISITED BY HER SON

That he is highly pleased with the way in which the former home of his mother, Madame Modjeska, is kept, was declared Saturday evening by Ralph Modjeski of Chicago. Modjeski has been on a brief visit with his son, Felix Modjeski, at Bay Island, East Newport. He left Saturday evening for San Francisco, where he is to hold conferences in relation to the construction of a bridge across San Francisco bay, he having been employed as one of the engineers to carry out the giant project.

Saturday evening Ralph Modjeski and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Modjeski motored to the canyon property made famous as the residence of Madame Modjeska, and had dinner at the inn, now in the hands of G. A. Schwegler.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Modjeski are leaving Bay Island today for a stay of a week at the Inn.

EDISON CHIEF WILL ADDRESS ROTARIANS

Rotarians today were anticipating a rare treat in the program scheduled for the regular meeting of the club tomorrow. The speaker of the day is to be one of the most prominent men in Southern California and his subject will be one in which everyone is interested.

R. H. Ballard, vice president and general manager of the Southern California Edison company, will deliver the address and his subject will be on the project of the company for damming the Colorado river in development of power for the generation of electric energy to supply the general Southwest.

The company proposes the investment of millions of dollars in the development of electricity by harnessing the waters of the Colorado river. It is expected that it will serve a district within a radius of 1000 miles of the dam, if its plans are carried to a successful issue.

Ballard's subject tomorrow will be "The Colorado River Project and Its Relation to the Development of California and Its Bearing on the Future of Southern California in particular."

A special musical program will be an added feature for the meeting.

In view of the general interest in the matter to be discussed by the speaker and its importance to the Southland, the club extends an invitation to those interested to be present. The meeting will start at 12:15 p. m. at St. Ann's Inn. It is expected that Ballard will give his auditors an insight into the company's project that will be informative and of value to them.

VOLUNTEERS BUILD HOUSE AND TABLES

Blisters and sore muscles were acquired by a number of Santa Ana business men Friday and Saturday through strenuous work—at least, to them it was strenuous—in getting the Boy Scout summer camp in Santiago canyon into shape for the opening of the camp July 18.

During the week, E. E. Heidt, county scout executive, and a group of Boy Scouts cut a road through the brush to the secluded spot where the camp is being established.

Owing to the fact that it was impossible to reach the camp with an automobile or truck, lumber had to be carried across the creek and to the building site. The volunteers who helped with the work Friday afternoon were the pack animals.

The floor of the cook house was laid Friday. Saturday afternoon about a dozen Santa Anans went to work with hammers and saws and completed two long tables at which the boys attended to one of the most important and most enjoyable duties of camp life—eat, and they all but finished the cook house. In the work some of the scouts did as much as a man could do.

Under the plans of the county organization, each troop of Boy Scouts is to be allowed two weeks in the county camp. About 250 boys will be in the camp during the summer.

2 INJURED AS CAR TURTLES ON HIGHWAY

Suffering from injuries sustained when the car in which they were riding turned over about 6 o'clock yesterday evening, A. H. Matthiessen, 1914 Estrella avenue, Los Angeles, and his nephew, William Gilbert, 1014 Twelfth street, San Diego, today were confined at the Community hospital here.

Matthiessen sustained a broken nose and a badly lacerated lip. Gilbert was slightly hurt about his back and right hip. Hospital attendants stated that both probably would leave the hospital today.

The accident happened between Irvine and El Toro when the machine was going down a hill at a fast clip. The right wheels went off the shoulder of the road. In attempting to force the car back upon the paved part of the highway the right front wheel broke off and the car turned turtle.

A passing motorist brought the injured men to the local hospital.

Motorcycle Officer O. K. Carr arrived at the scene of the accident a few minutes after it happened.

ALMOND MEN APPEAL TO GOVERNOR FOR AID

United Press Leased Wire. LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Governor William D. Stephens today received a wire from the California Almond Growers exchange at San Francisco that F. B. Hamilton would arrive in Los Angeles this afternoon for conferences with the governor on the tariff situation.

It is expected that the conferences will take place tomorrow. The almond growers exchange, representing 4,000 growers and 10,000 acres of cultivated lands, is preparing for an energetic campaign at Washington, D. C., for amendment of tariff schedules affecting almonds.

A tariff of 5 cents on unshelled and 15 cents on shelled almonds is demanded. The future of the industry is declared to be at stake.

The Sacramento chamber of commerce is actively co-operating with the exchange. Other chambers of commerce to whom appeals for support have been sent include Los Angeles, San Francisco, Long Beach, Oakland and San Jose.

Forty new Studebakers delivered in Orange county during June. There's a reason.

METHODISTS WILL VISIT SANTA MONICA

Members of the First Methodist churches of Orange county today were looking forward to next Thursday, following announcement yesterday that Thursday is to be Orange county day at the new religious city at Santa Monica being organized by the Pacific Palisades association.

Orange county Methodists will be guests of the association and will be entertained with a free dinner and other features.

The invitation was extended yesterday to all churches. The Rev. John Oliver, of this city, went to Fullerton yesterday afternoon to extend the invitation to the congregation there.

The Santa Ana church expects to send at least twenty delegates and arrangements for the trip will be completed after the prayer meeting Wednesday night of this week. It is expected that all the churches will send a delegation.

The Pacific Palisades association owns 1100 acres at Santa Monica and lots are being leased for ninety-year terms. No sale of property is made.

It is the purpose of the church to establish a big religious community on the tract and many lots have already been leased to Methodists. The association still owns the camp grounds at Huntington Beach occupied for sixteen years as a summer assembling point for Methodists. The tract is under lease to an oil company. If oil is developed the proceeds will be devoted to the erection of fine buildings at Santa Monica.

The Huntington Beach tract is still within the district in which oil drilling is restricted, but it is expected the restrictions will be removed in time.

OPEN MEETING PLAN OF G. A. R. VETERANS

A fine program is being arranged for the open meeting of Sedgwick Post, No. 17, G. A. R., to be held at G. A. R. Hall next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to announcement today.

The public is invited to be present and enjoy the program with the veterans and members of the auxiliaries.

The program will include speaking, readings and music. The Rev. R. R. Raymond will deliver the address and Mrs. John Clarkson will entertain with readings. Others will participate.

There are about 800 charwomen employed in and about the Canadian parliament building.

JUSTICE COURT MARRIAGES HIT BY MINISTER IN SERMON

Rev. John Oliver Arraigns Pastors Who Re-unite Divorced Couples

TELLS HAVOC WROUGHT Notice of Proposed Unions In Wedlock Suggested As Remedy

Do Santa Ana marriages fail to stand the test of time?

Such is the allegation of the Los Angeles courts, according to a statement made last night by the Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, in the first of a series of four sermons which he will deliver on the divorce evil.

"Criticism by Los Angeles courts as to the marriage performed in this city," stated the Rev. Mr. Oliver, "is perhaps hard to answer, but I would ask those gentlemen, who performed the majority of the marriages so easily and so soon dissolved? I venture to predict that the larger percentage of them were performed in the justice's courts and not by regularly ordained ministers of God.

"This week two young people came to me to be united in marriage. When I was ready to perform the ceremony, the young man said, 'Mr. Oliver, we should like to be married in the church.'

"Marriage Will Stand
"There is a marriage that will stand, for when two young people are married in the solemnity of God's house, by a minister of God's word, they are more deeply impressed by the sacred character of the obligations they have assumed.

"The hasty marriages, in the justice's courts of the present day, are not nearly so likely to stand, in my opinion, and I should like to see the day come, which is advocated by many prominent thinkers of the day, when a public announcement of the intention to marry must precede that marriage by thirty days. That would give time for reflection as to the seriousness of such a step, and in my opinion would eliminate the hasty marriages with their usual accompaniment of equally hasty divorces."

The speaker then arraigned those ministers who perform the marriage ceremony over previously divorced couples, stating that ministers of his own church are as guilty of the practice as any, and by their freedom from such scruples, serve to perpetuate the divorce institution.

Quotes Figures
"One fails to realize the enormity of the question until the results are apparent," he stated, and then quoted figures to show how divorce affects the charitable institutions of the country.

"In California," he said, "one out of every six marriages ends in divorce, and Judge W. H. Thomas at one time granted here 122 divorces in a single week. This, however, seems mild in comparison with the experience of Judge J. D. Harvey, of Houston, Tex., who stated that upon his return from a vacation, he found awaiting him 1,538 complaints and in the space of four hours, granted 241 divorces. Fully one-half of these were the result of too hasty marriages, he stated.

"A recent report of the California state board of charities and correction says that 34 per cent, or more than one-third of the delinquents who come from divorced families, while in our own city, 75 per cent of the delinquent children come from homes broken up by divorce, according to a statement by Paul Wright, county probation officer.

Tells Havoc Wrought
"Records for 1916 show that in the United States there were 4,586,732 separations by divorce decrees, which left as divorce orphans 1,689,652 children, more than one-half of them being under ten years of age.

"The home cannot stand such inroads as divorce makes. Yet the home is the bulwark of the nation and unless the home is built to endure, and America must eventually cease to be the land of the free."

THE POLITICAL PERISCOPE

It is a long, long way to the peppy primaries of August, 1922, but a political periscope sweeping the horizon, hills and hollows of our home county at this early day gets an eyeful.

County officers are to be elected next year. The rumblings of the battle may not be heard, but it takes no ear-ache to gather in the footsteps of politicians approaching on horseback or sitting at the wheel of a divver.

Some people are already so certain as to what is going to happen in 1922 that they are willing to bet their heads against footballs or their big toes against ten-penny nails.

It is easy to lose your head during a campaign, and many a man running for office has stubbed his big toe on the sharp end of a ten-penny nail.

Ordinarily, it isn't worth while for The Register's political periscope to be brought out from under the editorial desk until the middle of the fall preceding the election. Evidently the election of 1922 is not going to be an ordinary election, for it has become necessary to wipe the dust off the periscope and hoist it.

A Wide Field
There will be a lot of excitement. There will be a governor to elect, a United States senator, a congressman, an assemblyman and a whole raft of county officers.

The whole courthouse will be in the millrace with the exception of two supervisors and two superior judges. Supervisor S. H. Finley of Santa Ana, and Supervisor William Schumacher of Buena Park and Judges Z. B. West and R. Y. Williams had their innings in the campaign a year ago, and each was re-elected. They may now sit on the rail fence (unless the judges prefer a bench and the supervisors the running board of an automobile or the derrick of an oil well) and watch the agony of the cohorts round about.

There will be many an unexpected thing happen between now and this time next year. By the middle of July, 1922, the races will all be lined out. The sound of the vote-chaser's auto horn will be heard from the brush-covered ridges of Trabuco, that mountainous precinct that in these many years has been the stronghold of Jim Sleeper and Josiah Joplin, to the shimmering sea at Seal Beach, where Phil Stanton holds a strong political rein.

By the middle of July a year from now the nomination petitions will have been circulated—most of them, at least—and the last frantic rush of those who want to see 30,000 voters between that date and the day of the primaries the last of August will be on.

After Jackson's Job
It is a long time ahead to pick the principals, perhaps, and a lot of changes may take place, as has been ascertained in this article, but the periscope has picked up a glimmering of truth, a couple of slabs of rumor and a few quarts of home-brewed talk, with the result that a venturesome outline of what may or may not be expected in relation to some of the offices can be presented at this early date.

To begin with, there is the office of sheriff. It wouldn't be a real election in Orange county without a real fight being staged for the right to wear the county's official holster. It is tradition in this county ever since our old friend Theo. Lacy, now departed from this life, first began taking his opponents down the line, that there must be a scramble for the office. It would be half a county election if the hammer and tongs were removed from the campaigning for that particular office.

The campaign of 1922 is to be no exception. The periscope stands sponsor for that bold prediction. They say it is true—that a large variety of statements have been laid up to "they say"—that Sam Jernigan is going to be in the heat of battle again next year, in a renewed effort to take the holster away from Sheriff C. E. Jackson, who, there is no doubt, will be a candidate for re-election.

Jack Iman's Wrath
If memory rightly serves, when Jack Iman was let out of his job as under sheriff of Orange county some year or so ago, Jack said, by gum, that he would be right out after Jackson's scalp at the next election, and—by gum, also—he would be himself wearing the colors. That is, he would be running for sheriff. That is, he would get even with Jackson by ousting Jackson, said ousting to be through the election of Jackson's opponent, said opponent to be said Jack Iman. Jack

Iman spoke in the heat of anger. He said that he felt that a great injustice had been done to him, and he was on the warpath from that day forth, s'elpme!

Jack Iman has been at work in the oil fields in recent months, and he has not been around Santa Ana—at least not since the periscope got to glimpsing about—for some time. Whether he is still firm in his intention of personally carving a circle around Sheriff Jackson's cranium does not appear. It is to be suspected, however, that his sympathies will not bear the initials, C. E. J.

And May Be Carr
And another firm that has been periscopeed bears the title, "Oliver K. Carr, candidate for sheriff."

Carr has been a motorcop for a number of years. He has pulled in any number of speeders and he has pulled off some good stunts as an officer outside of his work as a death-to-danger rider of a two-wheeled skyrocket.

The story is that a lot of Carr's friends believe that in him are concentrated the qualities of a sheriff, and that if the anti-Jackson forces will concentrate on him, they will constitute him sheriff in spite of Jackson's well known constitution for standing up under a hard campaign.

Carr leans a willing ear, it is said—or rather, "they say."

And there may be others who will trot forth. While Jernigan, Iman and Carr are stamping in the paddocks, other paddocks may be filled. There may be a handsome half-dozen in the race before the big event is called.

In the meantime, Jackson is on first base with two runs to his credit. His batting average the last two elections has been good.

Awaiting the Whistle
His friends—and there is every reason to believe that Jackson counts—say that Jackson is stronger now than he ever was; they will give you an earful to the effect that Jackson gained a lot when he put C. E. French in the catcher's box in place of Iman; they will tell you that Jackson is calmly ready and willing to meet all comers on the diamond, track or squared ring.

Yes, indeed, the race for sheriff in 1922, looking at it from a distance of a year, bids fair to live up to tradition. It will be a Derby!

And there will likely be some other events of deep interest and consequential coincidence.

Would Do Him Brown
For instance, it may be a mere coincidence that Charles D. Brown, Justin orange grower, who holds the double-barrelled office of coroner and public administrator, is traveling right along just as though there was an election coming next month, and that Ernest Wimbler's name has been mentioned as likely to be on the ticket next year for coroner and public administrator.

There are a good many angles to the office that Brown holds, a good many connections and disconnections, a good many businesses to be considered, and it is not at all probable that somebody will be out against him if not Ernest Wimbler then somebody else. Possibly the opponent will come from the north end of the county.

Who knows?
And there is another periscopeal picture that is sighted at this early stage of the game.

County Attorneyship
It is a picture of a horse race for the district attorneyship, with District Attorney Alex Nelson in the harness of one cart and—

Who might it be?
Well, of course, the horse might be changed, but at this distance the initials on the comparison are easily distinguishable as "A. E. K."

The only attorney-at-law, counsel for our barister in this county who fits those letters is A. E. Koepsel.

Mind you, Koepsel has made no announcement. But count on this, he has about two-thirds made up his mind to run, and when a man gets that far along in his political calculations the other third will probably go with the majority.

There have been other inklings, glimmerings and highlights in the political periscope. For instance, somebody has it that Mayor J. G. Mitchell of Santa Ana may run for one of the county offices. And another romping rumor has it that one of the supervisors said he didn't expect to be a candidate for re-election.

So taking it all in all, things have already livened up a bit in relation to things that may be happening a year from this date.

$160,000 IRRIGATION BONDS BIDS TO OPEN

The directors of the Newport Heights Irrigation district were looking forward today to opening sealed proposals at the Harper school house tomorrow at 4 p. m., for the purchase of bonds totaling $160,000.

The bonds, voted by the qualified electors of the district on October 28, 1919, will be sold for the purpose of installing a complete new irrigation system, it is understood. Included in the list of improvements are new pipe lines, new pumping plant, new machinery and a repair of the old distributing system.

Bids for the purchase of the bonds must be filed by tomorrow and must be accompanied by a certified check for $1000 or by a properly executed corporate bid bond for $2500 made payable to the Newport Heights Irrigation company.

HOME DEPARTMENT IN FARM BUREAU, PLAN

The regular monthly meeting of the farm bureau Friday, July 15, will be characterized by a gathering of women's committees from all the farm centers of the county for the purpose of discussing the formation of a farm home department.

Miss Lillian Clark, farm home specialist, will be present to explain the work accomplished by such a department.

In addition to the regularly appointed committee members, all wives of farm center officers are specially invited to be present.

Everybody attending will plan to go to Birch park, where tables have been reserved for a picnic dinner at which the farm bureau will serve coffee.

Mrs. Lucy L. Wilson, called America's foremost woman explorer, is principal of a girl's high school in Philadelphia.

The proceeds from all the plays written by Queen Marie, of Rumania, are devoted to the charities of her country.

PHONE GIRL NOT AID OF CUPID LONELY FIND

Moves To Flirt With Operators Here Meet With Sharp Rebuffs

The lonely and bashful young galant gets no aid from Cupid via the telephone line—at least not in Santa Ana.

This was disclosed today when it was stated that while companionship-seeking swains frequently attempt to flirt with the operators at the local exchange of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, such essays invariably meet with rebuffs.

At the same time, it was declared, there are instances of where lonely swains have sought to get "central" to act as a sort of "clearing house of the heart."

In other words, the would-be flirts have asked that the operator give the name of some local girl who would consent to accompany the lonely man to a picture show, just to relieve his loneliness.

One on "Drummer"
It is related by local telephone operators that on a recent evening a lonely traveling salesman placed a call for the information operator from a certain hotel booth.

"Could you tell me the name of a nice little girl who would take pity on my loneliness and go to a picture show with me?" was his question.

The operator was equal to the occasion and told him to call 217 and state his request.

Then she shamelessly listened while he placed the call.

"Police department" was the reply that came over the wire in answer to the call.

There was a sudden gasp, and then a receiver was placed v-e-r-y quietly on its hook and the episode was closed.

Operators have to cope with other things beside requests for aid in affairs of the heart.

For instance,

"Information, how long does it take to cook green beans?"

Only a Sample
That's only a sample of the multitudinous queries that long-suffering information has to listen to 365 days out of every year.

She grows quite used to questions as to the weather forecast, the date of the appearance of Pons-Wannecke's comet, the nights of the gruyon ruins, and countless others.

However, aside from all this, running a telephone exchange, and superintending a district for a telephone company, is a serious business, as E. S. Morrow, local district manager for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, will testify.

Conditions which earlier in the season kept the company nearly fifty orders in arrears have changed until now the company is able to keep up with most of the orders for the installation of new telephones.

That is, the company keeps up except in the southwest section of the city, where the delay is caused by the difficulty of obtaining the cable for the underground system of wire laying.

Cable Scarce
At one period it was almost impossible to get instruments, but the shortage has been overcome and the one great problem, according to Morrow, now is that of securing cable, which is manufactured by only one two in the United States.

The special cable is all produced in the East, and the local company has been informed that the orders placed for this section cannot be filled until late summer.

Morrow stated that it would probably be November before the orders for phone installation in the southwestern section of the city could be filled.

There are now more than 2700 instruments installed in the local branch of the service, which gives a general average of a telephone to every five and one-half citizens in Santa Ana.

These subscribers are served by a corps of more than thirty girl operators, whose mastery of the rather complicated switchboard is accomplished in less than a month's time in every case.

Some telephone companies maintain a regular school for the beginners, and it is estimated by these companies that it takes between $600 and $1000 to fit a girl to become a successful operator.

At the local office, the first two weeks are spent by the novice in watching and studying the switchboard, and gradually taking up the matter of calls. The lessons are absorbed rather than learned, and it is only a short time until the beginner can take her place at the desk, fit her individual headpiece over her ears and answer, "Number, please," at the signal of the flashing light, and be a regularly accredited "central."

BETTER SERVICE IS SOUGHT FOR P. O. PATRONS

Schedule of Mails Issued By Overshiner; Betterment Suggestions

"The post office department desires above everything else to give good service, not only at your local office, but the entire country. To accomplish this, the co-operation of all, more particularly of the business men, must be had."

This is the opening paragraph of a communication which sets forth the official local schedule of mails and which has been widely circulated by Postmaster C. D. Overshiner among patrons of the office.

"To secure the very best service," Overshiner's communication continues, "those having large mailing during the day are urged to mail early and often.

"Don't wait until the close of the business day and then bring in large bunches of mail, and expect immediate dispatch.

"Place Your Letters."
"Owing to the fact that only one or two clerks are likely to be on duty at that time, and also that the last mail for the day has been dispatched, your mail is most likely not handled until the next morning. Also, when mailing in large lots, place your letters, thereby making it that much easier for the dispatching clerk to handle."

"To aid our business men we are submitting a schedule of the closing of the mail at this office, to various destinations, as well as their delivery at the various points. If this is observed closely, you will find it most satisfactory.

"Registered mail for the north closes at 9:30 a. m., 4:30 p. m. and 5:30 p. m. For the south it closes at 9:20 a. m., 3:20 p. m.

Letter and Paper Mail
"Letter and paper mail for direct connection for the east, must be in our office at 9:40 a. m., 12:00 noon, 4:45 p. m. and 5:20 p. m. Parcel post must be in at 9:20 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

"Mail for direct connection for San Francisco, and points north, must be in this office by 3 p. m. to go via Owl. This mail will be delivered in the business districts of San Francisco in the morning and in residence sections in the afternoon.

"Mail for Los Angeles to insure afternoon delivery both in residence and business sections, must be in the office at 9:40 a. m. If delayed after that hour it is not delivered in the residence section until next morning. Mail not later than 12 noon, will be delivered the same day in the close-in business section. Parcel post will be delivered at 9:20 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

"All mail up to 5:15 p. m. will be delivered in San Diego on the morning delivery. That mailed at 9:40 a. m. will catch the close-in business district.

"Mail for Long Beach, Pomona, Riverside, San Bernardino, Colton and Redlands, to insure morning delivery, must be in our office by 5:30 p. m. While there are other mails leaving this office for these points, none are delivered in the afternoon.

"Mail for Pasadena to catch a morning delivery must be in our office by 5:30 p. m. To catch an afternoon close-in business district, it must be in by 9:45 a. m.

"Mail for Santa Ana, Norwalk and Downey is dispatched via Anaheim at 3:30 a. m., 9:45 a. m., and 4:40 p. m. All of these mails with the exception of the 4:30 p. m., reach their destination the same day.

In Orange County
"Mail for Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton, to insure morning delivery, must be in our office not later than 3:30 a. m. To insure afternoon delivery it must be in our office at 9:45 a. m.

"For letter and paper mail for Tustin and Laguna Beach it must be in our office by 9:40 a. m. and 4:45 p. m. Parcel post must be in by 9:45 a. m.

"For Irvine, El Toro and San Juan Capistrano letter mail must be in our office by 9:40 a. m. and parcel post at 8:45 a. m.

"Mail for Placentia and Brea closes at 3:30 a. m., via Fullerton, and delivered the same day. The rest goes by Los Angeles, reaching these points the day afterward."

"Mail for La Habra, Yorba Linda, Los Alamitos, Sunset Beach, Seal Beach and Stanton, dispatched by way of Los Angeles at 5:25 p. m., reaches its destination the next day.

Mail For Olive
"Mail for Olive dispatched via Fullerton at 3:30 a. m., is the only mail reaching there the same day."

INTEREST KEEN IN NEW BRIDGE NEAR OLIVE

What many at Orange regard as one of the most important pieces of bridge construction ever undertaken in the country, will be gotten under way when the board of supervisors awards a contract for the erection of a bridge across the Santa Ana river at a point near Olive.

The bridge will open a direct route from Orange and Santa Ana to the wealthy oil fields at Richfield and Placentia. It is believed the opening of the road will make these fields as accessible to Orange and Santa Ana as they are now accessible to Anaheim and Fullerton.

Business men of Orange have long been agitating the construction of a bridge at that point, having a keen eye to what the opening of a road into the rich district would mean.

Plans, as drawn by County Engineer J. L. McBride, call for a bridge with fifteen fifty-foot spans across the main portion of the river. Reinforced concrete piles will be used, the superstructure to be of wood.

The approaches to the bridge will be of pile trestle. The trestle approach on the south side will be 160 feet in length and on the north side 148 feet.

The trestle was chosen for the approaches for two reasons, one being that it is cheaper than a dirt fill and the other that in case of overflow from the river the water may pass through instead of backing up against the fill.

It is also expected the supervisors tomorrow will call for bids for building a bridge across the Santa Ana river at Seventeenth street.

Supervisors To Open $160,000 BOND BIDS
Will the $160,000 bonds of the Orange union high school attract buyers with the rate of interest placed at 6 per cent per annum?

This was a question trustees of the district were asking themselves today, in view of the fact that the board of supervisors is scheduled to open bids for the issue at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Bonds in the sum of $25,000 voted by the Yorba Linda school district, and bearing the same rate of interest, also will be offered at the same time to the highest bidder.

Bonds drawing five, five and a half and six per cent interest have not been selling as readily in the past year as they formerly did, and when securities of this character are offered for competitive bids it is done so with more or less doubt as to offers being received.

The security is not questioned by buyers but they do not look with favor upon the interest rate when they can secure higher returns on their money on other investments.

"Address all mail to street and number, city and state. See that a return address is on envelope or package; also that firm letterhead bears the street address. Writers of personal letters should also observe this same rule.

"All valuable mail should be registered or insured. If jewelry or extra valuable, it should be registered.

"Never enclose money in letters. Secure a postal money order and thereby play safe.

"In conclusion, the post office department and every postmaster invites constructive criticism and legitimate complaints of inadequate service, losses or irregularities and asks particularly that it be not long delayed. Bring your complaints direct to the postmaster.

"We are at your service, wish your co-operation, and so desire to have suggestions as to the betterment of the service, and we promise that all suggestions will be carefully looked into, and if in our power will be granted. If not within our jurisdiction, the suggestions will be taken up with the department in Washington."

Ten Commandments of Driving

- 1—Drive on the right hand side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
- 2—Slow down when approaching a crossroad; it's nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.
- 3—Look out for children. You can never tell what they'll do, and you're always in the wrong if you hit one.
- 4—Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he's there for your good, and he's got a tough job.
- 5—Be sure that your "dimmers" really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.
- 6—Read and obey the warning signs; they're not put up as ornaments.
- 7—If you feel you've got to speed do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
- 8—When making minor repairs, stop where your car may be seen from both directions; otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.
- 9—Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped street car. Some day the jury may call it manslaughter.
- 10—Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life — least of all yourself.

NURSE DECLARES IT WAS REAL BLESSING

Tanlac has proved such a wonderful blessing to me the very least I can do to show my gratitude is to let others have the benefit of my experience," said Mrs. Lizzie Felker, practical nurse, living at 3725 Randolph St., Los Angeles, Cal.

"Four years ago, after nursing a case through a very trying illness which lasted thirteen weeks, I just broke down completely. I had no desire to eat, and became so weak that even a short ride on the car completely exhausted me. My kidneys bothered me a lot and I also suffered badly from constipation.

"Every bone and joint in my body ached with rheumatism and I went down to one hundred and nineteen pounds in weight. Medicines didn't seem to do me any good and I made several trips East, thinking that perhaps the change would help me, but I got worse instead.

"A friend urged me to try Tanlac two months ago, and the change in my condition since is remarkable. My whole system seemed to respond to the treatment, my appetite picked up and I rapidly got stronger. I am no longer bothered with constipation or my kidneys and all signs of rheumatism are gone. I can do my housework and look after the flowers in the garden and get about as well as I ever could. I have actually gained nineteen pounds in weight and am feeling fine in every way."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co.

CITY TITLE SERIES

Winners in Church and Industrial Leagues Meet in First Game Tomorrow

The baseball championship of the city is at stake in tomorrow's battle between the Spurgeon building team and the First Methodists' aggregation. The game is scheduled for 7:15 p.m.

The winner of two out of three games in the series will have the right to the city title. The Spurgeon team, recently strengthened by "Toughy" Tyrrell, who was with the Salt Lake Bees early in the season; Neal Raney, of U. S. C., and Bill Cole of Stanford, holds the championship of the Industrial league. The Methodists, composed of many well known players, captured the gonfalon in the Church league.

Considerable interest followed the course of play through the play of the two leagues and a large crowd is expected at tomorrow's contest. The second game of the championship series will be played late in the week, probably on Friday, and should a third game be necessary, the teams will clash early next week, it is said.

With McCann, star Spurgeon chucker, out of the city, the mound selection for the Bisbyites has not been announced, although it is thought that Raney will probably try his hand at the twirling department. Don Hilliard, high school star, will serve them across for the Methodists.

To cover cost of the series a ten cent admission charge will be made at the gate tomorrow.

WHITE SOX PLAYERS
FACE ACCUSED MEN

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, July 11.—Seven former White Sox baseball players on trial here in connection with the alleged throwing of the 1919 world series, faced their former teammates in the courtroom today.

Seven of their teammates were in court in answer to subpoenas issued by defense attorneys. Harry Berger, attorney for some of the accused players, told the court he was opposed to having the players he wished to testify leave the city before taking the witness stand. The men were ordered not to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

The White Sox team was scheduled to leave the city July 24 and unless they have testified by that time it is very probable that the schedule will have to be arranged to allow them to remain here until called.

Those in court today were Eddie Collins, Dick Kerr, Urban Faber, Ray Schalk, Roy Wilkinson, Harvey McClellan and Kid Gleason.

PHILADELPHIAN HEAD
OF U. S. CHESS ASSN.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—Walter Penn Shipley, Philadelphia, is the first president of the United States Chess association, organized at the eighth American chess congress.

The following are included in the vice presidents elected: W. H. Vance, Colorado Springs; F. H. French, Davenport, Ia., and Stasch Milotowski, Los Angeles.

REDS PAY SEATTLE
BIG SUM FOR GEARY

CINCINNATI, July 11.—In a desperate effort to strengthen the club, the Red management today closed a deal with Seattle for Robert Geary, a 30-year-old pitcher whose home is in Cincinnati. Seattle gets Linn Brenton, bought from that club last year for $15,000, Charles See, bought two years ago from Rochester for $10,000, one other player and -10,000 cash for Geary, who is to report to the Reds at once.

Geary was with Connie Mack in 1917 and part of 1918.

ALIEN PRISONERS IN
DASH FOR LIBERTY

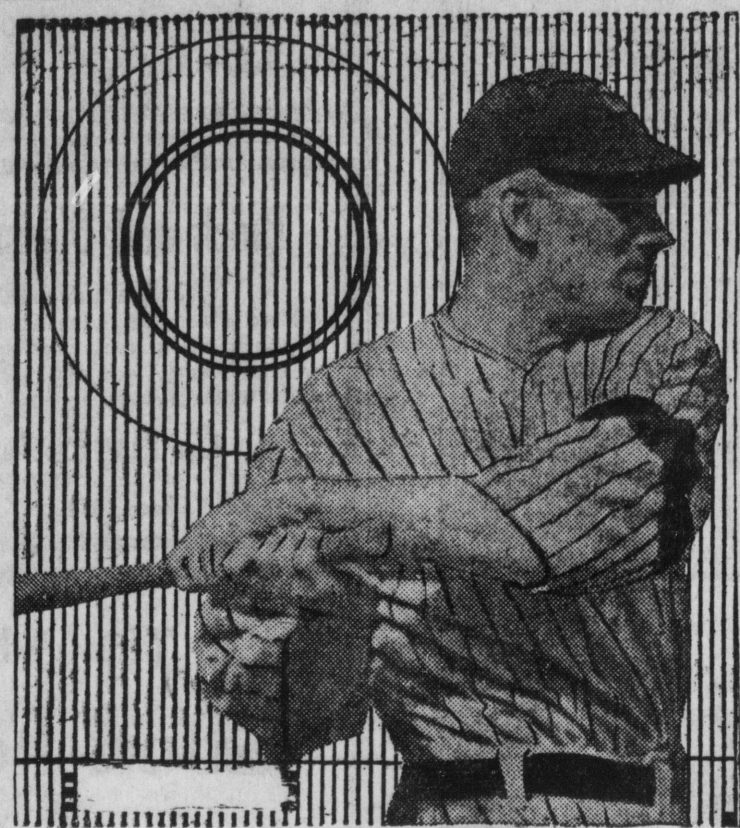

SEATTLE, July 11.—Eight alien prisoners, held for deportation at the Federal detention station here, overpowered two guards, locked them in an office and escaped.

It was half an hour before the guards freed themselves and gave the alarm. Several of the fugitives, they reported, were Japanese.

HELPS CLEVELAND TO WIN DOUBLE VICTORY

THIRD BASEMAN GARDNER of the Cleveland Indians, had a good day with the stick yesterday. He got four hits out of seven trips to the plate. In the first game he poked out three hits in four attempts and in the second game he got one single in three tries. One of Gardner's hits in the first game was good for two bases. Gardner also had a busy day in the field, being credited with two putouts and eight assists. He was charged with one error. He boosted his base stealing record by one in the first game.

Santa Ana Elks handed their San Bernardino brothers a 6 to 4 trimming at Orange yesterday and won their first encounter of the league.

Loy, on the slab for the local lodge, pitched a strong game and was invincible in the pinches. He allowed only six scattered bingles and whiffed thirteen Berdoo batsmen.

On the other hand Alvarado for the visitors was hit when blows counted and was only saved from a larger score by good support. Deakins started things off for the Santa Ana Elks when he clouted out a two sacker with two on base. Andy Luxembourg went clear around the paths when the San Bernardino right gardener dropped his long fly and then threw the ball away. That was in the seventh and the bell rang four times before the locals finally got through.

The Santa Ana team travels to Whittier next Sunday to play the tilters in the league. Yesterday's summary follows:
Santa Ana ..... 6 8 2
San Bernardino ..... 4 6 4

SHORTRIDGE EXTOLS
JOAQUIN MILLER

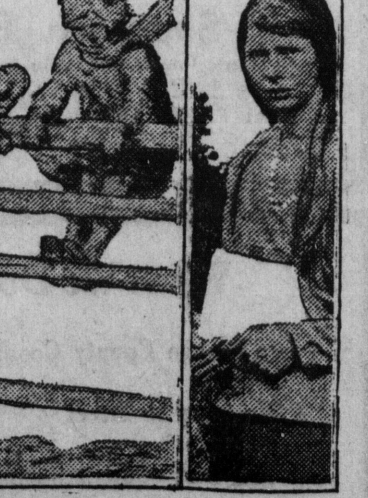

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Senator Shortridge made the principal address before the California Society in Rock Creek park, at the entrance to the cabin of Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras. More than a quarter of a century ago this crude log cabin was placed in the park as a memorial to the Californian, and for twenty-seven years a pilgrimage has been yearly made to keep green the memory of one of the state's most famous men of letters.

Several hundred former sons and daughters of California were present when Senator Shortridge extolled the poet's virtues and recalled many of the episodes of his eventful life.

YANKEE TEAM CHIEF
MAY LOSE JOB, WORD

Miller Huggins Not Popular and Gotham Fans Are Expecting Change

United Press Leased Wire
NEW YORK, July 11.—Manhattan's hopes, the Giants and Yankees, will have to do some hustling if they are to get anything better than a runner-up's cut of the world series money.

The season is just about half gone and as a result of wasted chances and opportunities the Giants and the Yankees are both three and one-half games behind the two league leaders with no immediate prospect of improving.

Following the miserable showing of the Yankees against the White Sox, New York has just about forsaken the American leaguers and is looking to the Giants to bring the series to the polo grounds.

The Yanks have the falling of cleaning up on the first class clubs and losing to the second string teams just when the going is rough for the leaders.

Much of the blame is being attached by the fans to Miller Huggins, a manager who has never been popular. Although there is no official foundation for the belief, the bugs are expecting the boss colonels to make a switch in the management.

Pittsburg, now leading the National league, has an easier road ahead than the Giants. The Pirates finished the season with a long stay at home, and although the figures do not show it, Gibson's men are generally regarded as a poor road club. The Giants have to finish the season on the road.

John McGraw, boss of the Giants, who still leads the club from the bench, is showing signs of a realization that something has to be done. His latest trade, Monroe and Winters for Red Causey, the Philadelphia pitcher, means that the Giant chief is not satisfied with his staff.

Good results of the trade which brought Johnny Rawlings to second base from the Phils are apparent. The whole infield looks better and Rawlings is playing a great game.

Neither Pittsburg nor Cleveland, the two league leaders, are showing any signs of cracking. This is true of Cleveland especially, through the ability of the great Speaker, in weathering storm after storm in the way of accidents and erratic work from the pitchers.

Both are playing real baseball and that explains it.

INDIANS TAKE PAIR
FROM PHILADELPHIA

CLEVELAND, July 11.—Although outbatted, Cleveland shut out Philadelphia in a double header. Cleveland bunched nine hits with five passes in the first contest. Morton won his own game by scoring Johnston with a single.

(First game)
Philadelphia ..... 0 12 2
Cleveland ..... 10 11 1
Philadelphia—Freeman, Rommel, Wolf and Perkins, Myatt; Cleveland, Mails and Numakamer.

(Second game)
Philadelphia ..... 0 6 1
Cleveland ..... 1 5 0
Philadelphia—Hasty and Perkins; Cleveland, Morton and Shinn.

SENATORS TRIM BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The hitting of Judge, who batted two home runs and a triple, and the steady pitching of Mogridge enabled Washington to defeat St. Louis.

Washington ..... 9 12 0
St. Louis ..... 4 13 2
Washington—Mogridge and Garth; St. Louis, Von Gilder, Bayne, Kolp and Collins.

SOX MADE IT THREE

CHICAGO, July 11.—Faber pitched almost unbeatable baseball while Chicago hit Quinn opportunely and won the third consecutive game from New York.

New York ..... 1 5 1
Chicago ..... 4 13 1
New York—Buinn and Schang; Chicago, Faber and Schalk.

GIANTS NOSE OUT CUBS.

NEW YORK, July 11.—New York profited by Chicago's misplays and won their third straight from the Cubs.

Chicago ..... 1 5 2
New York ..... 2 10 1
Chicago—Tyler and Killifer; New York—Ryan and Snyder.

EVANS FAVORED TO WIN WESTERN GOLF
ASSOCIATION TITLE

CHICAGO, July 11.—The Western Amateur Golf contests open here today at the West Moreland club. There are 172 entries, according to Secretary Harless.

St. Louis is viewed as having a strong quartette as also has the Southern Golf association which won the trophy last year at Memphis.

The Western Golf association team is headed by Chick Evans, who is favored to win the title.

HANIFY YACHT WINS
BIG S. F. BAY RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—John R. Hanify's yacht, the Machree, was the successful defender of the Perpetual challenger cup, again returning to the San Francisco Yacht club.

The Machree defeated Frank Stone's yacht, the Bob, sailing under the Corinthian Yacht club pennant, by five minutes and five seconds over the channel course in San Francisco Bay.

BRITISHERS PEEVED
AS HUTCHISON WINS
OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, July 11.—Somebody "just handed" Jock Hutchinson the cup after he had won the British championship, according to the American golfer's opinion of that much discussed affair.

"I guess they didn't like me because I turned American. The only friends I had on the course were my father and the Americans in the gallery. After I had won someone just handed me the cup. There wasn't the usual speeches," he said.

Hutchinson's name was not engraved on the cup, as is customary. "We were in too big a hurry to get away. We can take care of the engraving here."

Teamed with Tom Kerrigan, the new champion will play George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, the British invaders a 72 hole match today at the Pelham Country club for a $1000 purse.

VERNON LOSES PAIR
TO ANGEL SLUGGERS

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Los Angeles took both ends of a double header from Vernon yesterday, the first game by the score of 10 to 9 and the second, 6 to 1. Los Angeles won the first game in the last inning by staging a rally that netted three runs. The Tigers were easy in the second fracas.

(First game)
Los Angeles ..... 10 12 2
Vernon ..... 9 7 3
Los Angeles—Lyons, Dumovich, Lyons and Baldwin; Vernon, Mitchell, Love, Faeth and Murphy.

(Second game)
Los Angeles ..... 6 10 1
Vernon ..... 1 8 5
Los Angeles—Thomas and Casey; Vernon, McGraw and Murphy.

SUDS AND BEES SPLIT

SALT LAKE CITY, July 11.—Seattle and Salt Lake split a double header. All of Seattle's tallies in the first game were due to home runs. The Indians won the series, five games to one.

(First game)
Seattle ..... 5 8 2
Salt Lake ..... 13 18 0
Seattle—Francis, Geary and Spencer; Salt Lake, Bromley and Jenkins.

(Second game)
Seattle ..... 7 18 0
Salt Lake ..... 5 13 0
Seattle—Mack, Gardner and Tobin; Salt Lake, Kallio, Leverenz and Lynn.

SENATORS TAKE TWO

SACRAMENTO, July 11.—Sacramento made it six out of seven over Portland by winning the afternoon game here yesterday by a score of 7 to 2. Home runs by Compton and Niehaus featured the battle. Hal of Portland hit safely four times in as many chances. One of his hits was a triple and another a double.

Sacramento hit Sam Ross hard and took advantage of Portland's loose playing in the morning game at Stockton, winning, 7 to 1. Shea was invincible and more than half of Portland's hits were of the scratch variety. Score:

(First game)
Portland ..... 1 6 4
Sacramento ..... 7 12 2
Portland—Ross and Fisher; Sacramento, Shea and Cook.

(Second game)
Portland ..... 2 10 2
Sacramento ..... 7 10 0
Portland—Johnson and Baker; Sacramento, Niehaus and Elliott.

DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—San Francisco and Oakland broke even in two games yesterday. The Seals won the first, 3 to 2, O'Connell's home run in the eighth with Ellison on base being the feature play. The second contest went to the Oaks, 6 to 5. The fans disliked the decisions of Umpire Croter in the afternoon game and in the final inning he was made the target of pop bottles, cushions and like articles.

The Oaks took the series five games to three. This is the second series they have won from San Francisco since 1915.

(First game)
Oakland ..... 2 7 2
San Francisco ..... 3 6 0
Oakland—Krause, Winn and Koehler; San Francisco, Couch, O'Doul and Yelle.

(Second game)
Oakland ..... 6 16 0
San Francisco ..... 5 9 2
Oakland—Kremer and Koehler; San Francisco, McQuaid, Lewis and Agnew.

DELTA FARMS

Another Great Land Opening

=== 3,000 Acres to be thrown on the Market ===

Subdivided into improved farms of 100, 200 and 300 acres each

$300 per acre—$65 per acre cash—18 years to pay balance.

THINK OF IT! Annual payments average only $13 per acre per year for 18 years.

Located in the Rich Delta of the San Joaquin River near Stockton.

1,400-acre Field of Potatoes, 270 Sacks per Acre, Sold at an Average Price of $2.25 per Sack

During the past two years we have completely sold out six tracts of these
DELTA FARMS containing

30,000 ACRES FOR NEARLY $9,000,000

This is POSITIVELY the last tract we will offer——It will not last long.

The soil is rich, black peat, 40 to 60 feet deep.

Absolutely Free!! Unlimited water for irrigation is always available.

Every Delta Farm we offer is improved with complete set of farm buildings, and is under intensive cultivation right NOW.

BUY NOW and get your share of the crops already planted and growing.

Special Leasing Offer: If you are not in a position to farm this land yourself we will lease and manage it for you and collect your rentals free of charge.

If you have $6,500 cash or more to invest, and want the richest, most productive land in the State, make an appointment for us to show you DELTA FARMS. See the enormous crops of Potatoes, Onions, Barley, Corn, Beans, Celery and Asparagus. A FARMER WHO KNOWS WILL APPRECIATE IT.

EVENING SALUTATION

"It is a man's work which makes him great. Without a great purpose, he cannot be a great man!"

VAST FARM VALUES TODAY

The total value of American farms as shown by the census of 1910 was $35,000,000,000. Last year's census gave them a value of $68,000,000,000.

This enormous increase cannot be attributed, in any large part, to temporary inflation. Farm values as a rule have not been inflated during the recent boom so much as land values in the cities. The instances of eastern farms whose selling price was doubled or trebled in a year, and which are now bankrupting their buyers, have been spectacular but not representative. The average farmer has kept his farm, and is still working it and expects to work it, and considers it worth at least as much as the census valuation indicates. It may be said safely that the total farm value is not likely to fall much if it falls at all, with falling prices, for there is a slow and sure appreciation of all agricultural lands with the growth of population.

Here, then, is a gain of $33,000,000,000 in ten years in the value of farm lands. The entire national debt, even if we include the $11,000,000,000 principal and interest which the Allies owe this country and will almost certainly pay some time, is several billions less than that. Thus the American farmer, alone, if the increase of his wealth for the last ten years were turned into cash, could far more than pay every dollar the nation owes.

The art museum in one of the eastern cities has a patent ventilating system by means of which the air is passed through cool water before being distributed throughout the building. The fame of the resultant coolness has gone abroad, and the consequence is that in the hot weather when attendance at the museum might be expected to be lightest, the place is crowded. The hotter the day, the bigger the crowd.

Read that and be thankful that you live in Orange county where no such artificial cooling is necessary!

MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

The war department seems to be having trouble in enlisting civilians for the officers' military training camps this summer. Government officials, from President Harding down, have found it necessary to issue public appeals. In spite of those appeals, reinforced by local efforts and newspaper publicity in the various districts, interest seems to be lacking.

It is unfortunate, in view of the wholesome effects that may be expected of such training as these camps are fitted to give. It is unfortunate for the country, whose safety is more firmly assured by the development of every additional reserve officer, and for the men themselves who would gain health, useful experience and desirable knowledge from such training. But the indifference is natural enough.

Our people, like the people of every other belligerent country, are sick of war, and of everything that is connected with war or reminds them of war. With no national danger in sight, they want to forget all things military, and go about the business of peace.

They are thinking, too, of the burdens of armament. Large numbers of men even resent efforts to connect them, directly or indirectly, with the military establishment, because they are oppressed by the thought of heavy war taxes, present and future.

There is probably a way, however, to renew and increase interest in such civilian training. If the government will cut down its regular military forces and expenditures to the lowest possible limit, and make it plain to everybody that it has done so; if it will proceed promptly to take up the question of armament limitation with the other powers, so as to lessen present costs and the danger of big wars hereafter; if it will shift the American military system more definitely from dependence on regular soldiers to a training system more like that of Switzerland, with the regular army used not as a fighting force so much as a nucleus for quick expansion in case of need; if, in short, formal armament and big army expenses are cut down, and private citizens made to realize that the burdens of national defense hereafter will rest on them, but that those burdens will be easy, just and wholesome, then the youth of the nation may reasonably be expected to take to the training camps with enthusiasm.

The head of an eastern domestic relations court found that his office was swamped with complaining married folk during the hot weather. The complaints, most of them, were not of a serious nature. They were just little irritations and bickerings fanned into flames of anger largely by the physical discomfort of the excessive heat. Investigation proved that in hardly a single case had there been any effort to regulate the mode of living in accordance with the state of the thermometer. Wherefore the head advises all and sundry who would live happily in the heated season to partake of cool meals, cool drinks and cool baths, these being conducive to cool minds.

CIVIES FOR SOLDIERS

An order issued by Secretary of War Weeks will permit army men to wear civilian clothes when off duty. This is a fair and sensible rule, which might well have been made long ago.

Any good soldier is proud of his uniform, and the public respects it. But as every man who has served under the colors knows, there is in it a restraint which tends to mar the soldier's little time for relaxation. In his uniform he can never be really "off duty." There is rest and relief in being able now and then to dress inconspicuously in civilian garb and mingle with private citizens on equal terms. There is democracy in it, too.

CARE FOR SOLDIER GRAVES

An American correspondent in France writes of the American soldier burial ground at Belleau Wood: "The approach to the cemetery has been carefully galled and sodded; like the entire grounds, its surface is soft and green. There is not a grave or a cross one hair's breadth out of alignment. By day, the American flag floats overhead. The whole effect is to give the impression of minute, careful attention that is personal to each grave rather than impersonally rendered by someone in the line of duty. This is true in the same degree of each one of the four cemeteries."

France is looking after those cemeteries. The American army is looking after them. The American Y. M. C. A. is keeping an eye on them. American women are helping to tend them, and French women, by hundreds, are regularly paying their loving tribute to the American boys who died for France and America both.

HASTEN THE SWEET BILL

In spite of all the agitation concerning the plight of the disabled service men, it seems almost impossible to bring congress to the point of passing effective legislation in their behalf. Inasmuch as nearly three years have passed since fighting stopped on the field of battle, it is about time that it stopped over relief measures in congress.

The greatest need at the present time is for the assembling of all governmental relief agencies under a single, efficient, accessible head. The Sweet bill provides for such organization. It has been passed by the house, but is now subject to the usual senatorial haggling.

There is no need of any further solemn investigation of abuses and neglect in general. It is definitely known that they exist. What is needed now is machinery for the prompt investigation of individual claims and their swift adjustment. The Sweet bill provides such machinery. Why is it not passed?

Return That Book Today

San Bernardino Sun

By what kind of inscrutable mental process or word jugglery does it come about that there are some objects which no one but a professional thief will take and keep if he can, while there are others which are appropriated by eminently respectable men and women, who would feel hurt if they were told that the method in which they acquired these objects is something very close to stealing.

Not one of these very amiable and respectable people would take a dime out of his neighbor's pocket-book, or a $20 bill, even if he could do so without fear of detection. And still hotel keepers complain continually of a shrinkage of their table silver supply, pocketed often by people who have more than enough of it at home. This irresistible impulse would not drive any of these persons to steal an empty milk bottle from somebody's porch; and still, before we took to paper cups, it was necessary to fasten by chain the public tin drinking cup.

In the case of books the moral law seems to be suspended altogether. Many persons who could bring numberless affidavits to their honesty and integrity in every other walk of life, will borrow books, and though their former owner may pine for the want of them, the books are not returned. Practically every one of us can recall the fact that someone has not yet returned the book he borrowed two years ago. And very likely on going over our own stock of books we should come upon one or two which we have not returned.

In some of the largest libraries the world over it has been found necessary to subject all out-going individuals to a search-and-seizure process to keep down the number of books stolen each year. Apparently this is an international affliction.

It is a tribute to the inherent good nature of men and women that this failure to return books has not put an end altogether to the lending of books. As we are wont to say in matters political: "Something ought to be done about it."

The Menace of the Big City

Riverside Press

The political menace of the big city has long been recognized; and the great state of New York has embodied that recognition in a provision in the state constitution that puts such limitations on the city of New York in the matter of representation in the state legislature that guarantees to the "up country" part of the state a majority in both houses of the legislature. Unless some plan of apportionment is agreed upon in California that will give the balance of power to the portion of the state outside the two great cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco, the state legislature for the next ten years will be dominated by those two cities.

The commercial menace of the big cities is felt in preferential freight rates to the terminal points and in other discriminations in the matter of transportation facilities that makes it very difficult to build up manufacturing or wholesale establishments outside of the larger cities. Riverside, San Bernardino and other interior cities have been handicapped by "back haul" charges, by regulations regarding switching facilities and other conditions that hamper the commercial development of those communities.

The political and commercial power of the cities is united in movements to center in the cities activities of state and federal government that should properly be distributed more widely over the country. The contest over the farm school for Southern California is a case in point. We had similar fights over the location of Sherman institute and the citrus experiment station; and San Bernardino faces the danger of having the hospital for service men now located at Arrowhead "lifted" to some point in the vicinity of Los Angeles.

And now comes a new menace in the proposed control of hydro-electric power rights by the city of Los Angeles. If the far reaching plans of that municipality in this matter are permitted to be carried out, irrigation and electric power in Southern California will be very largely under the control of that city. New enterprises can be throttled or developed as may suit the pleasure of Los Angeles and the development of other cities stimulated or checked. The agricultural development of the country is dependent on water—from gravity sources or from subterranean sources where pumping by electric power is necessary. Electric power is essential for transportation and for manufacturing, and indications point to a policy on the part of Los Angeles that would put the future development of Southern California in the hollow of the hand of that city which in its dealings with its neighbors in the past has shown itself provincial and greedy to an extreme degree.

No one city and no one county acting alone can do anything against the overwhelming political and commercial power of Los Angeles, but in combination there is strength possible that may check some of the selfish ambitions of that city. It certainly behooves Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial, Orange and San Diego counties which have many interests in common and which owe no obligations to the city of Los Angeles to be on the alert against the aggressions of that great municipality and to work together as a matter of self protection and mutual interest. All we ask is justice and the opportunity to develop freely and independently the resources that we have; those rights we should fight for to that last limit.

THE THING THAT CAN STILL BE DONE

Three types of men have to do with the building of the world—the starter, the finisher, and the one who starts and goes right through and does the finishing himself.

I have in mind a man who started one of the most stupendous undertakings ever attempted, just as the war broke. Full of vision, shrewd, energetic, and with that faith which only experience can give, he had no trouble in getting associated with him many of the ablest moneyed men in America and the world.

His concern grew into millions of dollars in trade, and was known wherever there was any commerce at all worth while.

Then the war ended. The money system of the world faded like a hard-pressed human being under stress.

Partners withdrew. The stock of the once great concern shrunk to practically nothing. But there was one man who stood by—the man who started the idea and the concern. And after pledging every cent he had in the world—amounting to millions—like a sea captain, he stood erect and strong while his once great ship of business sank into a receivership.

I can see the fine, square jaw of this man, his straight forward looking eyes, his firm set mouth. And this is what he is saying: "The thing can still be done!"

I read about this young man at the height of his career. He is only 46 years old now. His name is George A. Gaston. He will be heard of again. When a man of his character says that a thing can be done, it will be done. And he will be the man to do it.

A whole financial system may give way, a country may be left in ashes, but with a few Gastons around, there is bound to be put together a better and stronger world that will rise above ruin and be greater than any former success.

If YOU can say that the thing can still be done, it won't matter how many millions say that it can't!

The Velvet Hammer

By A. B. B.

W. L. GRUBB

The man who rounds the bubble up and marks it with his brand can later find some social tasks to which to turn his hand. Until he gets the wherewithal to buy his gas and chuck, he's busy looking out for his important private luck, but when he's fixed his fences, if he's not a shrimp or scrub, he turns to public services, like W. L. Grubb.

Grubb raised a herd of cattle on the Colorado range and came to California with lucre, jack and change. He never seeks an office but he often finds a place to work for Orange county and the noted human race. He is a fine large specimen who likes his fellow man, and who assists with friendly fists in every way he can.

Both quail and deer, when he is near, will scout for grass and shrub, or meet the fate such creatures hate, providing Grubb with grub. He takes a shot at Russell Scott when both are hunting birds. It means the repetition of some very well known words, as well as a surgeon with a pin extracting little souvenirs from Scott's astonished skin.

Santa Ana, California, July 9, '21.

Dear A. B. B.: Your velvet knocks are pleasant, quite to taste, so different from the kind that try our tired hearts to break.

No matter how unworthy they feel they are for fame, you are going to help your "victims" try to play the game.

You have started here a friendly sport, it would we well for all to know; teach us to pad the hammer so there is no "soreness" from the "blow."

Sincerely, W. C. J.

CONDEMNATION.

Santa Ana, Calif., July 7, 1921.

To the Editor of The Register:

Under the title of "The Press and the People" The Register writes that

"Contrary to its expectation The Register heard but two protests against the publicity it gave to the Dempsey-Carpenter fight," and considers the lack of such protest as evidence of "increasing intelligence and fairness of public opinion."

I wonder! Personally, I believe the lack of protest was because of the powerlessness of such protest. What chance has the lone displeasure of a multitude against the rampant, vicious cries of a mob? Has not

The Register lost something of its sense of values when it declares the interest shown for a prize fight to be far greater than the interest in church or religious intelligence? Perhaps there is not the same mad thrill over religious news that there is over the muscular brute who knocks his opponent senseless, or batters him into a bleeding mass, and the more brutal the fight the madder the thrill. Yet, would The Register put this degraded excitement in place of the wise and quiet teaching of the church?

Those who did not see the "full accounts of the fight" might feel swindled? Undoubtedly! Gamblers feel swindled when their gambling places are closed. "Bootleggers" feel swindled when they are caught. Can it be that swindling sometimes is another name for purification?

I was in Louisville, Kentucky, years ago when a big prize fight was staged in New Orleans—Sullivan-Corbett. I think it was. Louisville was wild with excitement; special trains to New Orleans; telegraphic news down to the last minute; glaring bulletin boards. The Louisville Courier Journal gave all of its first page to big headlines of the fight, and other pages to the minutest details of the same; while over among the inconspicuous items of the paper a few lines were inserted telling of the death of the poet Whitman.

A few days later a clergyman of the city asked me if I had seen the New York Tribune of the same date. I had not. He then told me that the Tribune gave its prominent headlines to the poet Whitman, and other pages to the account of his life and literary work; while in an inconspicuous corner it had a small item to the effect that "as it was the duty of a newspaper to give the news," it felt obliged to record the fact that the Sullivan-Corbett fight had taken place, and so-and-so, (I have forgotten which), had been victorious.

Which paper, may I ask, appealed to the finer instincts of humanity? Which paper expressed the greater degree of "intelligence and fairness?"

CHARLOTTE E. DRESSER.

COMMENDATION.

Santa Ana, Calif., July 7, 1921. Mr. J. P. Baumgartner, Editor "Register," Santa Ana, California.

Mr. Baumgartner:—I deem it a privilege—as well as my duty—to express my appreciation of the manner in which The Register presented to its readers the news of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, and to congratulate you and your efficient staff upon the journalistic triumph this achieved.

The fact that the event thus ably chronicled was a prize fight, should not and does not detract one particle from the credit due The Register. This effort stamps The Register as a metropolitan newspaper, worthy of a city many times the size of Santa Ana.

Perhaps, to one who knows something of the clock-like precision with which the various departments of a newspaper must co-ordinate in order to accomplish such a result, the real significance of the achievement is more apparent, but I am sure the majority of your readers must understand and appreciate the class of service being rendered by their newspaper.

There may be something of a personal touch in my interest in The Register, by reason of the opportunity I have had to observe the various stages of its evolution from a struggling country daily to its present proud position, but I am viewing this accomplishment purely from the standpoint of its merits, and feel that you and your staff are entitled to know that your efforts are understood and appreciated.

Wishing you continued success, and predicting still greater achievements, I am

Very sincerely yours,

W. F. MENTON.

"Edgar," said the teacher, "what is capital punishment?"

"It's when a kid in naughty and his mother locks him in a dark closet where there's lots of cake," answered Edgar.

THE OTHER FELLOW

Let me be a little kinder,
Even though a little blinder
To the faults of those about me—
Let me praise a little more,
Let me be, when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery;
Let me serve a little better
Those that I am striving for.

Let me be a little braver,
When temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little harder
To be all that I should be.
Let me be a little meeker
With the brother that is weaker;
Let me think more of my fellows,
And a little less of me.

Chapter 84

PETER RABBIT CARRIES HIS THANKS TO BILLY BEAR

By Harvey Elliott

Peter Rabbit ran on a long ways before he stopped that evening on which Old Dick Coyote came so near gobbling him up. He heard Billy Bear's awful growl and knew that that was what stopped Dick Coyote and sent him the other way. He didn't realize how much Billy had done for him till he had time to think.

He was a safe distance away when he stopped and looked back. His heart was going pit-a-pat. He squatted down very flat in the weeds and laid his ears on the back of his neck. He wanted to be sure that all danger was past before he budged again.

As he sat there he got to thinking about what Billy Bear had done for him. He hadn't even stopped to say, "Thank you." What would Billy think of him? But, then, he thought, Billy Bear surely wouldn't expect a fellow to stop and shake hands and say, "Thank you" when Old Dick Coyote was just reaching for the fuzz on his tail.

But Peter Rabbit felt that he would have to hunt up Billy Bear and make it right some way. So Billy would go home anyway, so he started off toward the Bear home. He forgot that he could go so much faster than Billy and as a consequence he got there a long ways ahead of Billy.

"Howdy, do, Buster Bear," squeaked Peter to Father Bear as he hopped up to the front door. "Please, may I see Billy Bear?"

Father Bear gave a grunt and said, "Billy Bear isn't here. I don't know where that scamp is. He has been gone all afternoon."

"Oh," said Peter, "I'm awfully glad he was gone all afternoon, I just came over to thank him for saving my life."

Father Bear told Peter and Mother Bear all about how Old Dick Coyote nearly caught him and how Billy had jumped at Old Dick and scared the wits out of him so that Peter could get away.

Then there was another chuckling time between Father and Mother Bear. They talked all over with Peter about that morning when he first saw the little Baby Bear, and how he tried to spread the news, and about the Jollification the next morning, and about how Peter had the honor of giving Billy his name. Then to think that same Baby Bear had now saved Peter Rabbit's life!

They just had a real good visit together. But Peter Rabbit never mentioned anything about Billy's mashing in his summer home. He was too good a neighbor ever to call up the unpleasant things that had been forgotten.

Scott Fitzgerald, the youthful author whose recent novel of college life has made him famous, said at a luncheon in New York: "College spirit is always the same. It is exemplified in the dialogue of the two juniors, 'What shall we do tonight?' said the first junior. 'I'll toss up a coin for it the second junior answered.
